Must Ignorance
Be Forced on People By Law's Edicts?

THE Inquisition is still at it. Following Tennessee's decree that no one shall learn any geology or biology that Moses did not know, comes an attempt in Ohio to penalize the discovery of anything in economics or politics that George Washington had not yet found out.

Orthodoxy is to be compulsory, politically as well as theologically. The political orthodoxy takes the form of demanding the discharge of alleged "reds" and "communists" in university faculties.

Of course, there are no such professors, but it saves thinking to call them by these names, rather than take the trouble to find out who they really teach.

Between the history professor who teaches that England was right in the revolution, the economics professor who teaches anarchy, and the biological professor who teaches that "man is descended from the monkey," we are in a bad way—or would be if there really were any such professors.

But even those fantastic professors, if they existed, would be a less evil than demagogic ignorance imposed by force its limitations on the search after truth.

FIRST we broadcast presidential addresses. Then the British consider broadcasting the proceedings of parliament.

The logical next step would be to broadcast the debates of congress. Which Heaven forbade—at least until we get some debates to broadcast!

Disillusioned as the American people are, they may retain some of the fictions on which our acceptance of the majesty of the law is founded.

"Don't talk to me about 'legislative intent,'" said a veteran legislator. "I know better; there is no such thing. He was right; but, unless we can develop something worth finding out, it may be safer if the people do not realize it too vividly."

Later on, when we reform things, by bringing cabinet and congress together, openly on the floor of congress, to discuss things out loud, it may be worth while to broadcast those discussions. There will be something to hear.

JAPAN takes one more step in modern progress. Both houses of the Diet have passed the law for universal manhood suffrage. Women make of course still for the future, but probably not so far in the future as it was in our own country when manhood suffrage was first adopted.

Japan thus acquires at least the external basis of democracy. Its lawmakers will be elected by and responsible to the people.

Whether this will mean real democracy, and whether democracy, even if attained, is what Japan needs, only experience can show. Certainly, in these days when foreign rather than domestic problems are the major concern of every nation, and the capacity of democracy to handle them even in older democracies is still undetermined, it is at least debatable whether a people not already democratic should be in a hurry to become so.

But Japan has succeeded in every other existing experiment, and must inevitably try this.

FOR THE already established democracies, the problem is not whether democracy can handle foreign relations, but how to make it capable of doing so.

Democracy cannot be surrendered, but foreign affairs cannot be avoided. They cannot be evaded, postponed or muddled, as domestic affairs commonly are. They must be handled by international-minded persons, or they cannot be handled at all.

Democracies are not habitually international-minded. It is the last thing which political demagogues try to teach the people. Elections are won quicker and cheaper by appealing to already existing prejudices, which are always nationalistic and antisocial. So, if left just to drift, the tendency of democracy is to ignore or mishandle foreign affairs.

The easy remedy, therefore, is to handle them undemocratically, as has been often done in the past. But the only right way is for democracy resolutely to set itself to the task of becoming fitted to this responsibility. It is a matter of education.

It is the last thing which narrow chauvinism is to teach the young, and politics is to spout slogans and shillboeths to the old, both in the name of "patriotism," democracy surrenders.

NEW FRENCH CRISIS THREATENS

FOUR KILLED BY TORNADO IN FLORIDA

Storm Sweeps From Everglades, Cuts Swath 200 Yards Wide Near Miami

WRECKS 75 DWELLINGS

Loss of Property Due to Terrific Wind Estimated At One Million Dollars

MIAMI, Fla., April 6.—The fourth fatality of the Florida tornado occurred today, when Mrs. John T. Simpson died from injuries.

Three others were killed and more than a score injured late Sunday when the twister swooped from the Everglades, causing heavy property damage before it swept on into the Atlantic.

The death of Mrs. Simpson is the second in her family, her 8-year-old son, John, having been decapitated by the storm.

The tornado cut a 200-yard swath from the Everglades to the ocean and search was going on in the ruins of 75 dwellings for possible additional casualties.

Property damage is estimated at a million dollars.

Big Dairy Wiped Out

The storm centered around Rialaah, where the new race course was recently built at a cost of $1,500,000. The White Belt dairy, largest in the state, was demolished. Two persons were killed there.

Originating about eight miles west of Miami, the tornado struck the dairy with sudden force, completely demolishing the buildings and killing Mrs. Mathilda Schultz, 70, and injuring a number of employees.

Two Killed at Roadhouse

A roadhouse, Westwood Inn, was next struck and two persons were killed and a score injured. The dead here were John W. Simpson and F. E. Sullivan.

Then continuing northeastward, the twister wrecked 77 dwellings and finally passed out into the Atlantic ocean.

The heaviest damage occurred at the White Belt dairy, where the buildings were piled up in a twisted, jammed mass. The damage here alone will exceed $200,000 in property and livestock destroyed.

1 KILLED, 6 BADLY HURT IN CRASHES

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—One person is dead and six are badly hurt today as the result of traffic accidents here over the week end.

E. Borden, 35, was killed when he was thrown against the top of his automobile, as it collided with another machine.

Alex Talmosoff, 34, and his nephew, Alex Talmosoff, were seriously injured when their automobile skidded into a Pacific Electric train at a grade crossing near here.

Police officers N. R. McRae, C. I. Bever, and George A. Ryan were injured when automobiles in which they were chasing bootleggers skidded on slippery pavements and overturned.

Two Die In Blast At Cripple Creek

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., April 6.—Two miners were killed and a third was probably injured when a premature dynamite explosion occurred in the thirtieth level of the Portland gold mine, late yesterday.

Three Hurt As Races Clash In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Three persons were seriously injured and a number of others slightly bruised and beaten in a free-for-all fight between negroes and whites in the "black belt" here, early today.

Raymond Kruger, 17, white, Raymond Gries, 16, white, and Joe Nelson, 16, negro, were taken to a hospital for treatment after police broke up the riot.

The trouble started when an unidentified white youth and a negro clashed in a street fight, police said. White and black bystanders took up the battle, a score of negroes armed with gas pipes entering the fray.

Half a dozen negroes were placed under arrest.

PUT FATE OF CHAPMAN UP TO COOLIDGE

President May Be Called Upon to Decide Whether Slayer Hangs For Crime

OLD SENTENCE STARES

Unexpired Term In Federal Prison May Prevent Execution In Connecticut

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—President Coolidge may have to decide whether Gerald Chapman, convicted bandit, goes to the gallows in Connecticut this summer for slaying a New Britain policeman.

Commutation, by the President, of Chapman's 20-year federal sentence for robbing the mails, was informally suggested at the justice department.

Legal technicalities would thus be avoided with the sentence commuted to expire at once, the way being opened for the death sentence to be executed.

Department officials, however, refused to discuss seriously what the government will do in the matter until the Connecticut courts have finally disposed of the case.

CHAPMAN STILL HAS CHANCE TO LIVE

HARTFORD, Conn., April 6.—Although Gerald Chapman, mail bandit and convicted murderer, is sentenced to die June 25, it developed today that he still has a fighting chance for his life. In addition to the probabilities that the Connecticut state court of appeals will grant him a new trial for the murder of Patrolman James Skelly, Chapman may be given a new lease on life by federal authorities demanding he serve the unexpired portion of his 25-year sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for mail robbery before he goes to the gallows.

CHARGE FRAUD; BAR LEAGUE FROM MAIL

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The National Disabled Soldiers League today was barred from the mails by the postoffice department on the ground that it is a concern engaged in obtaining money through the mails under false pretenses.

John T. Nolan, commander; James P. McCann, treasurer, and Kenneth D. Murphy, adjutant, were cited in the order as officers of the league.

The fraud order was issued by Postmaster General New upon the recommendation of H. J. Donnelly, acting solicitor, after an investigation at which the officers of the organization were given a hearing.

The investigation covered substantially the same ground as the inquiry made by a select committee of the house last winter, at which charges of fraud were extensively made against the league.

Pencil campaigns and alleged fake conventions of the organization were delved into by Donnelly with the conclusion that they were not bona fide.

Renew Shepherd Fight for Bail

CHICAGO, April 6.—William D. Shepherd's last fight for freedom on bail—an appeal to the Illinois supreme court, was started today. Attorneys for Shepherd, who is accused of murdering his millionaire ward, Billy McClintock, completed their list of affidavits with which they expect to gain Shepherd's freedom, and mailed them to the state capital, along with a writ of habeas corpus.

Shepherd, due to be arraigned on the murder charge Thursday, has been denied bail twice by Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins of the criminal court, who ruled he must remain in jail until his trial.

Hammer Burglars Loot 6 L. A. Safes

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Sledge-hammer yeggmen battered their way into six safes in four downtown robberies here today, escaping with total loot of approximately $1000.

Places robbed were the Pacific States Electric company, the Western Wholesale Drug company, Eno Rubber company and U. S. Rubber company.

In every case the yeggs had battered the safes open with sledge-hammers, indicating the robberies were performed by the same gang.

Lady Astor to Act Better In Commons

LONDON, April 6.—A public vow to behave better in the house of commons was taken here Sunday by Lady Astor, who told a political meeting: "I admit they riled me and nettled me, but I'm going to change. I'm much better than I used to be, and I'm going to get better every day in every way."

Farmers, business men and residents generally today were wearing the "smile that won't come off," following the copious downpour of Saturday night that added an appreciable amount to the total of the rainfall for the week, the precipitation for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Sunday, being 41 of an inch, according to the gauge maintained by Hill and Son.

Added to the fall for the previous 24 hours, the storm total is 46 of an inch. No rain fell here between Sunday morning and 7 a. m. today.

Reports indicate that the rainfall Saturday and Sunday night was general throughout the county, there being no great variance in the registrations here and at other points, except in the mountain districts.

Crops Are Benefited

Recent rains have been very beneficial to farm lands, making it possible for farmers now to place their grounds in excellent shape for seeding. Growing beets, particularly on dry lands, have been aided, and growing grain has profited. Growths thought of insufficient height for hay cutting have taken on new life.

Rain and snow in the mountains will augment the supply for irrigation and farmers who depend on pumps for irrigation are jubilant over the prospect of the underground reservoirs being renewed.

Despite the fact that the Los Angeles weather bureau this morning announced that the storm, which is declared to have reached historical proportion in some districts had passed, the skies here were overcast throughout the day, with more than favorable indications that tonight would bring forth more moisture.

South of Santa Ana, in the El Toro and Capistrano districts, light rains were reported this morning, although there was no precipitation in Santa Ana.

Storm Damage $200,000

According to estimates made in Los Angeles storm damage in the southland will not exceed $200,000, the loss resulting largely from flooded railway and interurban roads. This is more than offset by benefits to the southland's crop and water supply. According to Edison officials in Los Angeles, the storm has assured a plentiful water supply for southland farms and cities.

Following is the rainfall in inches at various Southern California points, as reported today by the weather bureau:

Pair Robbed In L. A. Hotel Lobby

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Signor Frisco, vaudeville actor, and his wife, were robbed of $2800 in jewelry and cash by three bandits as they returned to their hotel here this morning.

The robbery was staged in the lobby of the hotel after the night clerk had been forced to lie down behind the counter.

U. S. ENTERS RACE TO FIND HIDDEN LAND

Arctic Explorers to Seek Problematical Continent Between Alaska and Pole

SURVEY BY AIRPLANE

America Would Discover Unknown Area As Base For Use In Peace, War

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—America has entered the race to discover and claim the problematical continent that is believed to be between Alaska and the north pole.

Recognition that such a possession would be an enormously important air base in peace or war has put the government into the drive to find it.

With the approval of President Coolidge, two naval amphibious planes, with pilots and mechanical personnel, will accompany the polar explorer, Donald MacMillan, on his expedition to the polar wastes this summer.

Will Survey "Blind Spot."

Their objective is a survey of the giant "blind spot" on the map north of Alaska, the only unexplored region in the world. The Stars and Stripes will be planted on it if it exists.

The United States conceived the idea of such an aerial expedition two years ago, when it was projected to send the naval dirigible Shenandoah into that region from a base in northern Alaska. No competition was then in sight, however, and President Coolidge called off the expedition on the grounds of expense.

But the situation now is changed. Norway already has an expedition in the field at Spitzbergen, headed by Capt. Raold Amundsen. Vague reports emanate from Russia that the Soviet intend a gambler's throw in the direction of the pole. England has projected a similar expedition.

The MacMillan navy venture, which is to retain its character as a private venture despite official participation, is scheduled to leave Wiscasset, Me., June 15. The first base will be established in the vicinity of Kennedy channel, north of Greenland. The planes will then transport fuel and supplies to an advanced base on the northern tip of Axel Heibergland.

Expect to Accomplish Much.

From this point, the aviators will start their operation. Their planes, having cruising radius of 1000 miles and speeds of 120 miles an hour, are expected to form a new colony, in the words of MacMillan, to "accomplish many things that have been accomplished in Arctic exploration during the past century."

L. Comm. R. E. Bird, bureau of aeronautics, will command the naval detachment.

An unusual feature of the expedition will be the ample radio preparations. Sets for transmitting both telegraph and telephone on 20, 40 and 150 meters are being assembled.

A call for volunteer radio operators will be issued shortly.

Coal Mines Open With Union Men

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 6.—The first important break in the strike of bituminous coal miners in 10 northern West Virginia counties came today when two mines which closed on April 1 reopened under the union policy. The Connellsville By-Products company, the West Virginia operating concern of the James A. Paisley interests of Cleveland, O., and the Mona mine, a Paisley subsidiary, were the mines to resume operations.

TWO KILLED AT CROSSING

PORTERVILLE, Calif., April 6.—Inquiry will be held here today over the bodies of A. R. Cline, 60, and A. H. Shaw, 65, killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a Southern Pacific train north of Strathmore. Cline was from Rock Island, Ill.

Press Time Bulletins

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Paul R. Rabe, Long Beach promoter, convicted of fraud, today was sentenced to a prison term of two to 20 years by Superior Judge Arthur Keetch. The court denied a motion for a new trial and in passing sentence severely lectured the promoter. Rabe was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with sales of stock in the Long Beach Dock and Terminal company.

Coolidge Only Lawyer To His Son

NEW YORK, April 6.—Calvin Coolidge may be president of the United States, but to his son, John, he is still a Northampton, Mass., lawyer, and nothing more.

When filling out an application form for membership in a fraternity, young Coolidge referred to his father as follows:

"Father's name—Calvin Coolidge."

"Father's occupation and address—Lawyer, No. 2, Masonic building, Northampton, Mass."

SAN FRANCISCO IS EN FETE AS NAVY PARADES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The U. S. navy was on show here today, following impressive entrance into the Golden Gate yesterday of the grand fleet of 145 vessels.

This morning, 10,000 officers and men paraded the streets from the ferry to the civic center, in a line three miles long. Hands played and gay-colored streamers flared as the procession wound its way to the reviewing stand at the city hall.

Today's events include luncheons and dinners for officers and championship baseball by fleet teams. Tonight there will be a ball for senior naval officers. Other entertained features will be scattered over the 10 days of the fleet's visit, before it leaves for the Hawaiian maneuvers and Australian cruise.

Bluejackets will be carried free on street cars while here, the first time any American city has extended such hospitality, it is said.

"We are bringing to San Francisco the greatest naval force ever assembled and commanded on the high seas by an American admiral," declared Adm. Robert E. Coontz, commander. "And we start from here on the most extensive maneuvers ever attempted in the history of our country."

The fleet visit, Admiral Coontz said, stressed the need of a base on San Francisco Bay.

TELL OF PRIVATION IN JUNGLE COLONY

HOBOKEN, N. J., April 6.—Tales of illness and privation in the Bolivian jungle, where they had expected to form a new colony, were told today by two Oklahoma families when they returned, virtually destitute, on the liner Voltaire.

After fellow passengers had raised $674 for them, William C. Pittner and Robert Gallentine, farmers, started back to Oklahoma with their families.

Frederick J. Stinson, one-time ambassador to Argentina, a passenger on the Voltaire, said he would ask the state department to investigate the colony, promoted several years ago by ex-Representative William Murray of Oklahoma, better known as "Alfalfa Bill."

MINISTER OF FINANCE MAY RESIGN POST

De Monzie Makes Threat to Quit Unless Cabinet Accepts His Monetary Plan

MILLERAND IN SENATE

Election of Former President From Department of Seine Is Outstanding

PARIS, April 6.—Another cabinet crisis faced France tonight. According to information reaching the chamber of deputies, Finance Minister De Monzie, who today presented a plan by which he hoped to save the troubled financial situation, threatened to resign if his proposals were not accepted by the cabinet.

With Socialists, supported by Premier Herriot, declaring the De Monzie plan ineffective, stormy scenes were enacted in the cabinet meeting at which the measure was being whipped into shape for presentation in the chamber of deputies tomorrow.

The bill provided voluntary contributions of capital from those receiving income from vested interests and for authorization to the Bank of France to issue four billion francs in bank notes.

De Monzie assumed the portfolio last week after Etienne Clementel had resigned, following conflict with Herriot as to the minister's proposed issuance of more paper money.

Voluntary contributions would be expected, under De Monzie's plan, only from those receiving income from invested interests. Salary earners would be exempted. The cabinet still has to approve the plan, which, if adopted, will be laid before parliament tomorrow.

Election of former President Alexandre Millerand to the senate from the Department of the Seine was the outstanding political event of the week end. Politicians regard the return of Millerand as a sign that the tide of political fortune is turning against the government.

Besides adding one more irreconcilable to the anti-Herriot forces in the senate, Millerand's victory over a government candidate is taken as a sign that the premier's power is waning.

After the cabinet meeting, which adjourned until tonight without reaching a decision, De Monzie consulted with the governor of the Bank of France and said he probably would be able to read in the chamber of deputies tomorrow a statement outlining the motives of the government project.

RANCHER KILLED BY SANTA FE TRAIN

JOAQUIN PANA, 70, rancher of Richfield, was killed near Atwood station, Richfield, this morning by a Santa Fe train. The man who was walking evidently mistook the oncoming train from the east.

An inquest will be conducted at the undertaking parlors of Backs, Terry and Campbell, Anaheim, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock by Coroner Charles D. Brown.

Defense Rests In Insanity Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The state will this afternoon open its fight to prove Dorothy Ellingson sane, so she may stand trial for killing her mother. Defense counsel rested their case at 11:40 a. m., after which a recess was taken until 2:30 o'clock, at which time Mrs. Katherine Sullivan will be the prosecution's first witness.

Hindenburg Will Not Be Candidate

BERLIN, April 6.—Former Field Marshal Von Hindenburg prefers to rest on his laurels as a World War hero of Germany, instead of entering the uncertain turbulence of politics as a candidate for the presidency of the republic.

The general, hailed as a native savior for halting the Russian invasion at Tannenberg, in the early days of the war, is disinclined to accept the nomination which parties of the right wing would offer him. This information was conveyed to leaders in the so-called "Empire bloc" today, although it did not come in the form of a definite refusal from Hindenburg.

Renewed nomination of Jarres, who led the first poll, is anticipated.

TAX RETURNS TO BE PUBLIC IN JULY

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Income tax returns filed March 15 will become available for public inspection "shortly after July 1," acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue Nash announced today.

Coinciding with this announcement, Nash ordered all collectors of the bureau not to make returns public until they have received authority to do so from the treasury department.

THINK BOARD WILL FURNISH ROAD BUDGET

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—Members of the state highway commission intend to obey the request of the senate that they attend a meeting of the committee on revenues and taxation and furnish a program of proposed expenditures for the next two years, it was indicated today.

Senator Arthur H. Breed of Piedmont, author of the one cent gasoline tax increase proposal, stated today he had received promises from members of the commission that they would attend the committee meeting tonight. Failure of the commissioners to do this would result in their being subpoenaed by the senate, it is declared.

Highway financing remains the big problem before the legislature. The tentative data set for sine die adjournment has been moved up to April 24, due to the delay that accompanied passage of the biennial budget and the fight over the highway situation.

Allocation of the funds which the highway commission declares will be necessary to carry on its program of construction for the next two years will be the principal topic of discussion at the revenue and taxation committee tonight.

The war between the dairymen and oleomargarine manufacturers over the proposal to tax the margarine interests two cents a pound on their product, was to be continued in the senate this week.

That the bill will be passed seems likely as a result of the overwhelming defeat of the margarine supporters in attempting to amend the teeth out of the measure last week. The manufacturers have threatened a referendum if the bill becomes a law.

Tonight the assembly ways and means committee will hold a public hearing on bills intended to carry out the report of the California debris commission. This report proposes the expenditure of some $17,000,000 in reclamation work which would be divided between the state, federal government and the land owners.

At the same time, Assemblyman Harold Cloudman of Berkeley will present his resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the feasibility of his plan for reviving hydraulic gold mining in the state. Cloudman's project involves the use of centrifugal pumps, by hydraulic miners, which would pump the silt from the river beds onto the lowlands, thereby enriching the soil and raising the levels of the lands.

The plan has been pronounced one of the greatest proposals that was ever laid before him by the governor and has the approval of a number of prominent engineers. It would permit the extraction of millions of dollars in gold from California's hills, which was stopped in the early '80s because of damage to farm lands.

ARREST ELECTION REPEATERS

BELFAST, April 6.—Several women were among the 20 persons arrested for "repeating" during Friday's elections. One of the women admitted she had voted 20 times, going home to change clothing each time before reappearing at the polls.

Court Notes

Two Boys Are Held

William Thomas, 16, and Donald Carter, 17, who are alleged to have cut an electric light and power line at Westminster, were certified to the juvenile court when they came before Justice K. E. Morrison for arraignment on a felony charge. Undersheriff E. E. French took the boys into custody at Westminster Friday night. A felony complaint was filed, charging them with interference with an electric line.

Held For Burglary

Waiving his preliminary hearing in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court, J. M. Lauri, of Garden Grove, was held to answer in the superior court on a charge of burglary. He is being held in the county jail in default of $500 bail. Lauri, it is alleged, entered the home of Sidney Harris at Euclid and Chapman avenues, Garden Grove, last November 30, and stole a radio outfit. Attorney Otto Sancker acted as counsel for Lauri today, by court appointment.

Bank Brings Suit

The Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank today asked judgment for $2500 in a superior court suit filed against Mr. and Mrs. J. Messerall and J. L. Hoy. Mr. and Mrs. Messerall gave the note to Hoy, who assigned it to the bank. Payment of the note has been refused, it is claimed.

Foreclosure Sought

Foreclosure of a $6000 mortgage against property of the Anaheim Foundry and Machine Works was sought today in a superior court action filed by the Golden State National bank of Anaheim, through Attorney Head, Rutan and Scovel, of Santa Ana. The Orange County Title company, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schulte, H. H. Armbrust and H. E. Schumacher were included as defendants in the case.

Eleven Years Alimony

Ellis Redel, who is alleged to have failed to pay $15 per month alimony and $28.30 costs awarded to his wife at Portland, Ore., in 1914, when she obtained a divorce, today faced a suit in the superior court of this county for an accumulated sum of $1875, with interest for 11 years, together with a demand for $28.30 and 11 years interest.

The wife, who is now Mrs. Idell Rosenberg, filed her suit through Attorneys Ames and McFadden, of Anaheim.

H. B. Man On Trial

The trial of Leonard Aguirre, of Huntington Beach, who is charged with a statutory offense against a Huntington Beach girl, started today before a jury in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court.

A special venire of 20 talesmen was summoned for the case, to supply material for a jury. Attorney Clyde Bishop appeared as counsel for the defense, with Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moyley representing the state. It was the first prosecution Moyley has conducted since undergoing a recent surgical operation.

A few days ago, Aguirre pleaded guilty to the statutory charge and asked for probation. A hearing on his application was conducted before Judge Drumm, and at its conclusion Aguirre withdrew his plea of guilty and changed it to not guilty, having decided that he would go to trial.

Divorce Granted

Clarence E. Singleton, of Santa Ana, whose decree of divorce from Helen R. Singleton, was on file today in the superior court, told Superior Judge Z. B. West that his wife snubbed him at dances, in favor of other men. She also indulged in drinking bouts in the rooms of various men, Singleton declared.

The Singletons were married in Los Angeles in 1918. They have no children. Attorney Charles D. Swanner represented Singleton in the divorce proceedings.

To Quiet Title

Seeking to quiet title to its property in Anaheim, the Episcopal church of that city today had filed suit in the superior court against "all persons" concerned. The action was filed through Attorneys Bishop and Wellington, of Santa Ana, on behalf of "The Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Michael's Parish at Anaheim."

Auto Mechanic On Trial

W. T. Forder, automobile mechanic recently arrested at Whittier and charged with failing to support his wife, Lucille Forder, of Santa Ana, went on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court.

Mrs. Forder testified that her husband left her without warning about a year ago, while they were spending a week at Newport Beach, and that she did not see him again until two months ago. They have no children.

Attorneys Swanner and Thompson appeared for the defense today, with Deputy District Attorney Kenneth Burns prosecuting the case.

"He wanted me to go to the beach for a week," Mrs. Forder testified. "I hadn't been away from him since we were married, and I told him I didn't want to go. But he said that he would go back and forth to his work in Santa Ana every day, so that was all right."

"We were there two days and then, when he left for work on the third morning, that was the last I saw of him for about 10 months. I didn't know where he had gone."

DOCTORS OFFER SERVICES AS CONSULTANTS AND FOR CLINIC AT ORANGE COUNTY HOSPITAL

With physicians and specialists of the county volunteering their services, Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the county hospital, today was completing plans for organization by May 1 of a consulting surgical and medical staff for assisting him in the medical and surgical work at the county institution.

Approval of the plans probably will be given by the board of supervisors at its weekly session tomorrow, it being the intention of Dr. Zaiser to then discuss the program with the county body.

At the same time, it was announced today that the Orange County medical society, the county health department, and the county organization of nurses will meet at the hospital tomorrow, at 7:30 p. m., for discussion of plans for instituting at the county hospital a county health clinic, the clinic to be under supervision of Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer. Dr. H. D. Newkirk, president of the medical society, will be in charge of the meeting.

Adopt Jury Advice
The plans developed by the hospital superintendent are in conformity with recommendations of the recent grand jury for organization of a consulting surgical and medical staff. The recommendation was made to the Orange County Medical society through its president.

"Up to the present time, Dr. Zaiser and his assistant have been forced to personally do all surgical and medical work at the institution," it was said today by a friend of the movement for creation of the consulting staff. "The county hospital, combined with the county poor farm, has now 125 beds, and these are full virtually at all times. The medical and surgical responsibility, together with the executive duties of the whole institution, is far too much for any one man. When the matter was officially brought to the attention of the medical society, the physicians gladly volunteered their services. The staff will be composed of seven physicians and specialists. A change in the personnel will be made every four months. By this method, the work will be well divided among the members of the profession identified with the society. The staff for the first four months already has been selected and, following expected approval by the supervisors tomorrow plans will proceed for instituting the better service by May 1, when regular visits to the hospital will be made by the staff doctors."

Will Relieve Executive
"By this arrangement, the superintendent will have opportunity to devote himself very largely to executive duties and place our hospital in line with the best managed county hospital in the state."

An additional feature will be the county health clinic. Dr. Presson is making every effort to co-ordinate the work of the various county health and school nurses, and to this end he plans

Scotch Shepherd Is Clad as Sheikh

LONDON, April 6.—London attire and Hollywood haircuts have gained sway amid the Scottish heather.

Every year a "real" Scotchman arrives to graze the sheep in Hyde Park. Invariably, the shepherd becomes a summer landmark because of his picturesque appearance. Hundreds of persons turned out to view the quaint shepherd when he came to attend his sheep. The Scot, George Mackintosh, proved an immense disappointment. He carried a cane, wore the most modish "plus fours" a la Prince of Wales and slicked back his hair a la Rudolph Valentino.

Y. M. C. A. STARTS HOLY WEEK MEETS

With Rev. Moffett Rhodes presiding, Paul LeBar at the organ, James A. McDill directing the singing, Maurice Phillips as soloist, rendering "The Palmers," and an inspiring address on "Jesus, The Lord of All" by Rev. W. H. McPeak, the series of noonday services for Holy Week was inaugurated this noon at the Walker theater, under the auspices of the Ministers' association.

The services will be held daily, through Friday, as a means of promoting the proper observance of the Easter season for all thoughtful people. Business men and women are especially invited, the hour being set particularly for their convenience. The service begins each day at 12:05, and ends before 12:30. Those attending may come and go as their time permits.

Tomorrow noon, the Rev. W. L. H. Benton will have charge, and the address will be by Rev. F. T. Porter, on "The Temple of God." Mrs. Sallie Lee Scales will sing.

ANNOUNCING a New Way to Health

To the People of Santa Ana and Orange County:—

I want to call attention to those who are sick, but doubtful as to what Chiropractic really can do. Being interested in their welfare, I have installed the latest invention in the Science of Chiropractic, THE NEUROTHERMOMETER EQUIPMENT.

With the aid of this wonderful device, such people who have long been considered hopeless cases, will now be enabled to regain and enjoy health.

Patients desiring examination by this new method will call 1988, or come to my office at 407½ North Main Street, over Kelley's Drug Store, Santa Ana.

THE NEUROTHERMOMETER

What It Is—

1. It is a legitimate test made on the patient direct.
2. It establishes that some of the greatest subluxations produce little, if any, pressure. It establishes that some of the apparently perfect alignments of vertebrae are producing the greatest pressures.
3. It proves when there is no longer any pressure or interference of transmission upon nerves, in spite of the fact that the spirograph shows no noticeable change in position after prolonged adjustment.
4. It proves—(a) through check reading, when a case has had pressures released and transmissions restored, therefore prevents overadjusting; (b) and through the check reading for spinal cord pressures, shows which ones to leave alone, therefore prevents overadjusting as to the number of places.
5. It proves whether an "adjustment" was such in fact, or a mere moving of bones.
6. It establishes the fallacy of certain moves, in their ability to increase pressures and in their inability to release any.

What It Does—

7. It proves that majors are not a constant factor; that they are subject to change from one place to another during the progress of your case, a checking-up system on every case.
8. It establishes which cases you can and should adjust, and which cases you cannot and should not adjust. It tells you which cases to take and which to leave alone.
9. It provides an established objective record, by a physical scientific method, as to the location of spinal nerve pressures and mental impulse interferences, thereby eliminating the very questionable human equation of mental diagnoses based on studies of hidden and subjective conditions.
10. It establishes whether your case is getting well or just dragging along thinking it is.
11. It predicts that with an exact, definite and specific knowledge of where pressures are, that the time element in getting well can be reduced very materially.
12. It establishes the time when it is no longer necessary to adjust a given vertebra.
13. It removes all doubt as to what you are doing.

The Well-Dressed Man

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

WATCH YOUR APPEARANCE

Care of one's appearance forms a habit that soon becomes first thought, second nature and sixth sense. Wrote Lord Chesterfield to his son: "I would rather a young fellow pay too much attention to his dress, than too little. The excess on one side will wear off with a little age and reflection. However, if he is negligent at twenty, he will be slovenly at forty and a ragbag at fifty." Quite aside from the importance of correct dress as a stepping-stone to social and financial preferment, its influence refines a man and his manners. He bears himself more uprightly and self-reliantly. He gains in deportment and deference toward his superiors, especially the gentle sex. He lifts his hat; he doesn't tip it. He bows; he doesn't duck his head. He sits; he doesn't slump. He walks; he doesn't shuffle. Fastidiousness about one's clothes breeds fastidiousness about one's habits, surroundings, pastimes and associates. It sets a standard for the individual that makes him a better man and a worthier citizen.

All this may seem far-fetched and toplofty, but is it? Don't you recall some incident in conjunction with which the lack of being turned out as befitted the occasion put you at a disadvantage or, perhaps, caused you acute uneasiness or downright agony? The Well-Dressed Man is master of every occasion and emergency, for, as the old saying runs, you can't be a hero in a nightshirt. All men are alike in a Turkish bath. It's when they dress that the difference begins.

The double-breasted style-model, as portrayed in the accompanying sketch, is one to which young men and men of youthful lines and leanings are very partial this Spring. It lends a spruce, trim look to the figure. It is a welcome relief from the monotony of the single-breasted sack which has been in vogue so many seasons. If you are below normal height, this can be offset by selecting a double-breasted suit with a pattern formed by bold stripes, thus conveying an effect of greater length.

The coat shown is the two-button model with a soft front, semi-straight back, no vent and flap pockets. It is quarter-lined and roundabout 30 inches long. This garment is slightly waisted, as every double-breasted coat should be to trace the figure and prevent a baglike look. Shoulders are broad, but the style is kept snug over the hips to give it a tapering appearance. Trousers are straight and moderately wide. Sometimes, short side vents replace the ventless coat.

WAR VETERANS MARK SHILOH ANNIVERSARY

With stooped shoulders, whitened hair and withered form, heroes of the Civil war here and elsewhere today were recalling the events of the Battle of Shiloh, the greatest battle in that campaign fought on April 6, 1862. Today marked the 63rd anniversary of that great and epic struggle.

Judge E. T. Langley, a veteran, today called attention to this date as being the anniversary of the important event in the great war.

At the same time, he pointed out that April was the month in which several historic events occurred.

Next Thursday, April 9, being the anniversary of the surrender of Lee at Appomattox, in 1865.

The firing on Fort Sumpter was the incident that plunged the north and south into the struggle and that event took place on April 12, 1861.

Gen. U. S. Grant, one of the great generals, and who later served his country as a chief executive, was born on April 27.

Judge Langley possesses copies of verses written by a comrade and distributed immediately following the battle of Shiloh. He never knew the name of the author, although he made every effort possible to learn the identity of the writer. The verses follow:

"Twas early morning, April 6th, the sun had scarce arisen

When our gallant colonel forward came, and this command was given:

"Come forth, brave boys, and form in line; make haste and don't delay.

Those booming cannons, now we hear, would cross our line today."

Those gallant boys right manfully did this command obey.

And soon a double front did form in bold and stern array.

The glittering musket hove in sight, the cannon shook the ground.

The roll of drums, though distant yet, pealed forth their solemn sound.

The foe advanced with cautious step, from center, right and left.

And well concealed from every eye, their traitorous banner kept.

"Keep cool, my boys," the colonel cried, and rode along the line.

"We'll greet them soon with shot and shell, or it's no fault of mine."

These words he spoke scarce died away, 'ere the rebels opened fire.

Which gave us proof that they were foes and blood their heart's desire.

It was here, good wives, your husbands fell, your sons and brothers dear.

Who left their home so recently, thinking not that death was near.

The fearful struggle here commenced in which their Johnson fell.

And others, too, a mighty host, who fought long and well.

More desperate now became the fight, all fear and dread gave way.

And each resolved to perish there, or stand and win the day.

All praise is due to those who fought on Shiloh's bloody field.

The Iowa boys that valiant host who boldly made their stand.

And Indiana's fearless ones were found to be at hand.

With Illinois, Missouri and other states, all a faithful band.

And now I leave my humble verse, for those to ponder o'er

Whose sons and brothers nobly fell, whose husbands are no more;

I have aimed at justice to all, to each an ample share.

And if I've failed in any point, the fault I would repair.

RACES MOTOR COP; FACES 3 CHARGES

Although booked at the Orange county jail on a possession charge, Sam Good, 30, automobile salesman at San Juan Capistrano, will have to face several charges when he comes into court, according to Louie Heffner, of the state motorcycle police, who made the arrest.

Good was not captured until he had raced with Heffner for several miles along the Irvine boulevard, according to the officer, who said that at times his speedometer registered more than 60 miles an hour. Charges of reckless driving, driving a car while intoxicated and drunkenness may be filed against the man, Heffner intimated.

Good was arrested at 3 p. m. yesterday near San Juan Capistrano, after he had been trailed from Irvine.

Tire Company to Double Output

The Columbia Tire corporation, makers of C-T-C tires, recently held a 2-day sales convention at Portland, Ore., with salesmen, dealers and distributors from all sections of the Pacific coast in attendance.

Based on past increases in business, plans were made at this meeting to double sales during 1925. If these are carried through, the total volume of C-T-C business will compare favorably with that of many of the larger eastern tire manufacturers. And much of the money that formerly went east will remain on the Pacific coast.

According to present sales records, C-T-Cs are credited with being the largest-selling exclusively Pacific coast made tire.

OBITUARY

John William Struckbruck was born in Mansfield, Ohio, on Dec. 31, 1852, and taken to Iowa when he was two years old by his parents, Frederick and Jane Struckbruck. Mr. Struckbruck grew up in Tipton, Cedar Co., Iowa. There he was married to Alice D. Wirlich, a native of Iowa, who died at Tustin, Calif., 29 years ago, esteemed and loved by many as an excellent mother and a devoted wife. Mrs. A. J. Hadley and mother of four children, Emma, Johnny, Woodrow W. and Albert Jr. Hadley, and Alice May Struckbruck, the wife of B. C. Killefer. They have one child, Alice May.

When Mr. Struckbruck came to Newport Beach in 1887 it was only a sand-pit and the next year he worked for James McPadden, then a butcher, and drove the meat wagon. Now he owns the building where the Newport restaurant and property adjoining in the rear. He was elected and served as first city marshal of Newport Beach and was one of the oldest settlers living there, having been there many years before the town was started.

He was dearly beloved by all who knew him and passed quietly away April 2, 1925, at 5 p. m., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eva Hadley of Newport Beach. Funeral services were held Monday morning from Winbiger's Mission Funeral home and he was laid to rest in Fairhaven cemetery.

FORMER HEAD OF COLLEGE FRUIT GROWER

J. W. McCormack dropped into The Register office this morning, and when asked what he was going to do to keep himself out of mischief, now that he has sold his Orange County Business college, he dug into a paper bag and produced the biggest and most beautiful avocado ever.

"Yes," said Mr. McCormack, "I'm growing avocados. And isn't all, I'm growing lemons. And even that isn't all. I have about 200 acres of land I'm going to improve. All of this down at Fallbrook, in an Diego county. Don't you think that will keep me busy enough to keep me out of mischief?"

Mr. McCormack says his five acres of avocados are in full bearing and are producing wonderfully fine fruit. And his lemons are doing well, too. At one picking, just finished, he got 2900 boxes, and he expects about that many more in six weeks from now.

"And lemons are bringing fine prices just now and promising better," said Mr. McCormack.

You want to know what became of that avocado? Well, at this writing it is lying on the reportorial desk. You may imagine what will become of it a little later in the day.

SLAYS GIRL, THEN SURRENDERS SELF

GREENWICH, Conn., April 6.—After nervously pacing before the police station, James A. Mahoney, British war veteran, and now a New York draftsman, entered and flung down a revolver and three loaded cartridges on Captain Flanagan's desk.

"There's the whole story," he announced abruptly. "I've done it. I've just shot my sweetheart down the road."

Mahoney was handcuffed and officers attempted to get additional details. Although appearing in full possession of his faculties, he would only say:

"I brought her up to Greenwich to shoot her. That's enough. No one will ever know why."

Led by Mahoney, the police came upon the body of Beatrice Donnelly, 24, attractive secretary to an American Express company executive.

GERMAN FILM, 'LAST LAUGH' DRAWS PRAISE

"Take a man's uniform away—what is left?"

The ex-kaiser in his Doorn retreat might give an answer.

In his uniform, a man may be king, a general, a judge, with all the power of his position.

But take away his uniform.

What remains?

"Do clothes make the man?" According to critics who have seen the German-made moving picture, "The Last Laugh," which opens at Walker's theater, the film answers the question.

In his uniform, decorated with gold braid, the hotel carriage man is a god to his neighbors of the tenement district. Then the carriage man loses his job and is made attendant in the wash room.

Thus, from the first man of his district he becomes the last man, "the least of men," as one reviewer penned it. This part of the carriage man is played by Emil Jannings, whom Santa Ana fans will remember for his work with Pola

Negri in "Passion." Of the play, which the Walker theater will offer the Literary Digest says:

"His work has created so much enthusiasm that critics have urged our own movie actors to see this film and learn a trick or two about their own art. One notable feature of the mechanics of this representation was an absence of connecting legends, the burden of portrayal being put upon the actor; the resulting benefit was that time was allowed to look at the picture."

The committee of the National Board of Review says of this photoplay:

"The picture is one of the most important pictures to be observed on the screen. Its influence on future picture-making should be as provocative as that of 'The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari.'"

When Jannings returns to his home without his gold-braided coat everyone laughs and jeers at him, his son-in-law puts him out of the house, he is a fallen idol.

From New York Sun.

But after his vicissitudes, the former carriage man emerges triumphant and the New York Sun says this of the ending:

"Inasmuch as 'The Last Laugh' is a German photoplay, we were certain that it would end with the death of the protagonist. But a sense of humor popped up unexpectedly among its makers and the finish sweeps in with delicious irony."

"A multi-millionaire falls dead on the floor of the washroom over-which the hero presides. And by the terms of his will whoever held him in his arms at his expiration shall inherit his fortune."

"This makes the old fellow rich, richer than the owners of the hotel in which he lost the gold braid of a carriage starter for the white jacket of the tiled spaces. And so he garbs himself in the habiliments of a grand old banker and with a blossom in his buttonhole he treats himself and a fellow porter to all the good things of the dining room. Huge roasts are brought to him by the uppy waiters who had witnessed his downfall. And when the new carriage-starter, wearing the gold braid that formerly decked his shoulders, waits aside a grimy beggar, asking for alms, what does he do but invite the poor old bum to ride away with him in his victoria."

REASONS
Why You'll Like It!

Method of Cleaning

This is the one big distinguishing feature from other cleaners. It is the reason the Premier Duplex does a better job. Powerful suction is combined perfectly with an efficient motor driven brush. There is no escape for the dirt with this method of cleaning. All surface dust, hairs, threads, lint, etc., and all the embedded dirt are drawn up by the Premier Duplex. The attachments are really efficient due to the powerful suction.

It Never Needs Oil

Both the motor and the brush are completely equipped with ball-bearings, and are packed in sufficient lubricant to last for several years. The bearing and nuisance of oiling is entirely eliminated, as the bearings are re-packed every few years. This construction eliminates a great percentage of vacuum cleaner troubles which statistics show are caused by over-oiling and under-oiling.

It Is Easy to Use

Every point has been considered for the convenience of the busy housewife. The switch is located in the handle. The little red indicator on the base of the cleaner shows just how to adjust the nozzle to all surfaces from bare floors to the longest nap rugs. Due to the ball-bearing construction there is never any need to oil it.

A Splendid Motor

The Premier Duplex motor is of General Electric Company type—ball-bearing—strong, compact and powerful. It is built to last a lifetime. The motor is the heart of the vacuum cleaner and is vital to a good cleaner—consequently the Premier Duplex motor is made as perfect and as strong, as is possible with human hands.

It Is Light in Weight

With the Premier Duplex it is easy to clean stairs and to reach "hard-to-get-at" places. It is not tiresome to operate.

RAILWAY PUTS FLAG CODE IN ALL STATIONS

As a result of representations made by the patriotic committee of Calumpit camp, No. 26, United Spanish War veterans, of Santa Ana, to the management of the Santa Fe railroad, large cards with the national emblem printed in colors, are being placed in all Santa Fe stations on the coast lines. It was announced today by Harry M. Baade, passenger agent of the railroad company, with offices in this city.

Purpose of this display is to familiarize the public with proper flag etiquette. Prepared by Calumpit Camp. The cards were compiled by the local camp of the United Spanish War veterans, and show the proper manner for saluting, displaying and caring for the Stars and Stripes. The section on showing the flag says:

"The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously."

The history of the flag is given in another section of the poster, and under "Cautions," the following is emphasized:

"Do not permit disrespect to be shown to the flag of the United States. Do not dip the flag of the United States to any person or thing. The regimental color, state flag, organization or institutional flag will render this honor."

"Do not display any other flag or pennant above or to the right of the flag of the United States. Do not use the flag as a drape in any form whatever. Do not drape the flag over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be affixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap. Do not use the flag in any form of advertising, nor fasten an advertising sign to a pole from which the flag of the United States is flying. Do not use the flag as a portion of a costume or as a part of an athletic uniform. Do not encase it upon cushions or handkerchiefs or print it on paper napkins or boxes."

The proper use of bunting and other instructions are set forth. Several illustrations are given with respect to the displaying and other uses of the flag. The full five stanzas of "The Star Spangled Banner" complete the card.

Charles W. Kincaid, Santa Fe employee, pumper at Santa Ana, first brought the company's attention to the patriotic duty, well worthy of the Santa Fe to initiate, in a letter to J. R. Hitchcock, assistant general manager. General Manager W. K. Elter was greatly impressed with the idea as also was J. R. Hayden of San Francisco, who wholeheartedly endorsed the patriotic move.

As a result the veterans were given an order by the Santa Fe for the printing of sufficient copies of the card to place in all the stations of the railroad company.

Santa Ana Girl Is Married In San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Longmire of Santa Ana announced the marriage of their daughter, Lucille Longmire Wright, to Clyde A. Werner of Hollywood. The ceremony took place in San Diego last week. The betrothed couple motored to the southern city for the wedding and on their return from the honeymoon trip will make their home in Hollywood.

The lovely bride is very well known here and in San Bernardino. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Longmire of Highland, and a member of the pioneer family of that section. The Longmire family lived for some time in this city and Highland before establishing a home in Santa Ana.

The bridegroom is associated with one of the movie studios. Although no formal announcement of the engagement had been made, the romantic attachment between the couple was known to many of their friends, and the announcement of the marriage did not come as a complete surprise.

Stage and Screen

A scene from "Isn't Life Wonderful," D. W. Griffith's latest picture which is the current attraction at the West End theater.

Cullen Landis who has leading part in "Cheap Kisses," current attraction at Walker's.

"ISN'T LIFE WONDERFUL"

BLAZES NEW TRAIL

"Isn't Life Wonderful," D. W. Griffith's new picture, which began an engagement yesterday at the West End theater, blazes a new trail. Never has there been so absorbingly human a drama put upon the screen. It rises to such heights of truth and beauty and power that it far surpasses all the make-believe tragedies and brainstorms which have so far appeared.

It is an entirely new treatment of screen drama. The plot is life itself. It beggars description. Just a simple story; but it carries the audience through the whole gamut of emotions, holding them in a vise-like grip. Its very freedom from screen trickery or false drama lifts it to heights that seldom have been reached even by Griffith himself.

Picture fans will breathe a prayer of thanks to Griffith. Cynics will brush away their tears and feel as they did before they lost their illusions and their hair. Griffith has again pioneered the way and given us the most truthful delineation of characters I have ever seen. Unless one is a moron or an imbecile he will feel this little tale.

This poem written on celluloid has no villain. The villain is hunger. It has nothing to bolster it, no rides to the rescue, no leering villain, no crack-brained situation. From the slender tale by Major Geoffrey Moss, Griffith has etched a poignantly beautiful love story.

"THE LAST LAUGH" AT WALKER'S TUESDAY
"The Last Laugh," the screen sensation of 1925, comes to Walker's Tuesday.

"LET WOMEN ALONE" AT YOST TONIGHT

"Let Women Alone," the picture at the Yost theater is an adaptation of Viola Brothers Shore's Saturday Evening Post story, "On the Shelf," and revolves about an elderly woman and her son, an insurance salesman. Throughout her life, the mother has dreamed of a leisure that her limited circumstances would never permit until her children have gone out into the world and made their mark.

After they have transplanted her from her country home and into a life of ease she becomes restless. There is no work for her to do and time hangs heavy on her hands. Finally, without the knowledge of her son, she obtains a year-old daughter of the three-year-old daughter of a romance springing up between her son and her employer.

The story is rich in drama and replete with comedy situations, and the cast is an unusually good one. Ethel Wales plays the part of her mother, Pat O'Malley is the son and Wanda Hawley the interior decorator. Others in the cast are Wallace Beery, J. Farrell MacDonald, Harris Gordon, Margaret Morton, Lee Willard, and Betty Jane Snowden.

"CHEAP KISSES" SHOWING AT WALKER THEATRE
"Cheap Kisses," a virile story of today, is now playing at Walker's theater.

"Cheap Kisses" is a comedy drama laid in New York City and Long Island Sound. It deals with the fate of young people thrown into a hectic life of cocktail drinking, jazz dancing and petting. It reveals their problems and their solutions of these problems. It holds interest and attention from the first title to the last fade-out and is a production entirely worthy of the writer who is not only the author but the producer.

John Ince was the director, and Cullen Landis and Lillian Rich head a splendid cast of stars which includes the following: Vera Reynolds, Phillips Smalley, Louise Dresser, Jean Hersholt, Bessie Eyton, and many other well known stars.

smoothly and with great force. Emil Jannings, as the carriagesman of the Atlantic hotel, is revealed as a strong, sturdy figure in his huge, gold-braided coat, with the manner of an emperor. He proudly escorts guests to their motors, holding the house umbrella to shelter them from a fierce rain.

"But Jannings is no young man, and the house manager, noting evidences of fatigue on his part, gives a sinister note of it. At the end of his day's work, prinking and preening his wellkept beard and mustache, Jannings goes home to his tenement. Here the neighbors greet him with great respect, and bow to his uniform. Jannings rules the world. He is the first man of his district. Then he loses his job, and it made lavatory attendant in the Atlantic. He becomes the last man—or rather the least of men, as the translation of the title should read."

DECLARES CUBA IS ATTRACTING MANY YANKEES

Lt. Osborne Wood, on landing a few days ago on American soil after his spectacular spending spree in Europe, is quoted as saying America is a good place for making money, but Europe is the place for spending it, or words to that effect. Not all of the hard-currency American shekels are being spent at the European pleasure and gambling resorts, however, for quite a number find their way to Havana, according to Mrs. M. H. Eckhardt, a recent arrival from the "Paris of the West Indies," now staying at Hotel Santa Ana.

Mrs. Eckhardt makes her home in Los Angeles. She spent the winter in Cuba, visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, the latter holding a responsible position with the General Sugar company. Modern De Leons

Commenting upon the steady stream of American gold that is pouring into the Cuban capital, reflecting the growing disposition on the part of wealthy Americans to spend their money abroad, Mrs. Eckhardt made a humorous reference to Ponzo de Leon, a widower, who centuries ago were seeking the fountain of perpetual youth in Florida. Today, things are different, she indicated. Instead of looking for the fountains of youth in and around Palm Beach and Miami, the sojourners in these fashionable pleasure haunts, strike out every so often for "good old Havana."

According to the visitor, the winter tourist season, just brought to a close, was the best on record, and all persons identified with enterprises catering to travel and tourist trade, would wear smiles, hoping that 1925-26 will be still better.

All Hotels Thronged
The all leading hotels, modern show places, charging from $8 to $10 a day, on the European plan, have been running with capacity houses throughout the season. To take care of a still larger patronage, there is already talk of erecting several new hotels.

This growing volume of tourist travel to Cuba, Mrs. Eckhardt explained, is due in a measure to the recent boom in Florida, from which a steady patronage is received; and to the newly inaugurated stop-over call at Havana by all coast-to-coast passenger liners passing through the Panama canal.

Americans living in Cuba are said to be well satisfied with political, business and social conditions, and consider themselves well protected under Cuban laws. Large amounts have been invested by American citizens in different undertakings, which investments are not only considered safe, but have yielded satisfactory returns, it is stated.

VAN NUYS—On May 1 all police of the Van Nuys and San Fernando valley division will discard long trousers for knicker-sh-looking pants, to be worn with highly polished puttees such as officers wore during the World War. The request to change from the long trousers costume has been granted by Capt. Oakley after a conference with Los Angeles headquarters. Police will discard their blue winter uniforms for the summer garments of olive drab, and are expected to stack up spick and span when on duty. The new costume will be similar to that worn by the motorcycle division men. The policemen asked for a change from the long trousers, asserting they would have freer movement of the legs and feet if wearing breeches and puttees.

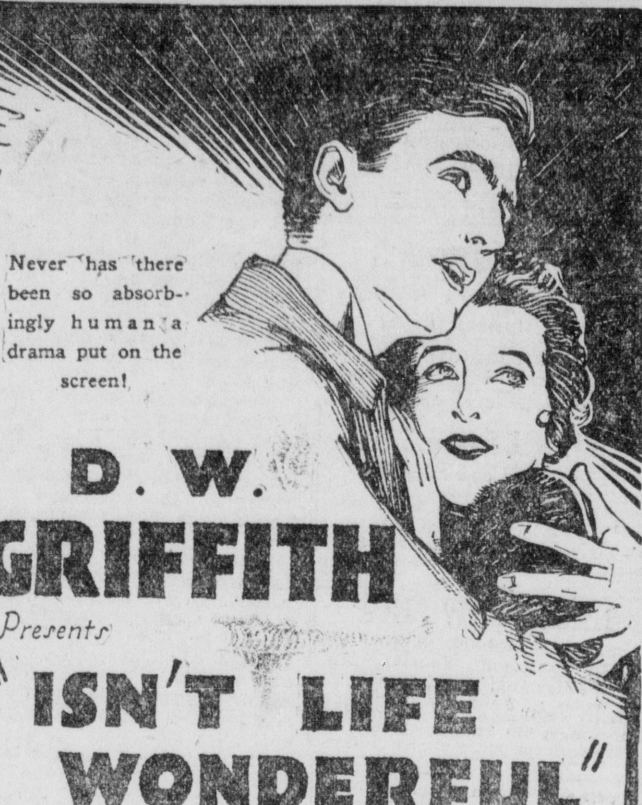

PASADENA—V. K. Fisher of San Gabriel possesses a very novel voice. As a grand opera performer no doubt he would be a success, but in Judge Frank Dunham's police court, his voice cost him just $10. It seems that Fisher can imitate a police siren to perfection. For some time, it was testified, he has been fooling the traffic policeman as he drove his light car down the street at a terrific rate emitting sirenlike screeches. At each corner, the policeman would wave traffic to a stop and would give the youth the right of way. Fisher met his Waterloo when two motorcycle officers, hearing the siren, believed that a fire engine was on its way to a blaze so they followed and Fisher was arrested.

SANTA BARBARA—The Santa Barbara city council adopted an ordinance providing pensions for veteran police officers and firemen. The ordinance, which passed its first reading by unanimous vote, is patterned after the Los Angeles city pension ordinance, retiring an officer after thirty years' service at two-thirds pay and after twenty years' service at half pay. It provides a pension fund, a board of three appointed pension commissioners and a city department of pensions composed of the commissioners. In case of illness or physical disability incurred through service, he may be retired on half pay for life, while if he meets death in line of duty his widow will be pensioned for life. The fund will be made up of council appropriations, donations and sale of unclaimed goods by city departments.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, April 6.—Fisher's index of commodity prices for the week April 5 declined 157.1 against 160.6 in the preceding week. This decrease was wholly due to last week's break in grain prices. In other lines, advances over the week-end pointed to a continuance of healthy activity with well sustained prices and indications of prosperity whose permanence appeared to be assured by the cautious policy of merchants.

This was reflected in the cheerful tone of the stock market at the start of the week. Maxwell issues made further record highs, the A at 92 and the B at 62½. Other motor shares also made good response. In the main body of stocks the best levels of the week-end recovery were maintained.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Quite a contrast to last Monday's weakness was presented by the way trading started off this week. Instead of having things pretty much their own way, bear operators found the line of least resistance was again favoring the side of rising prices.

Recovery in stocks was helped along by a grain price which carried wheat up nearly 10 cents from its recent low, under the impetus of a report of 2,570,000 bushels in this country's visible supply.

Speculative leaders like Baldwin, American Can, General Electric and East Iron Pipe scored advances running from 5 to 20 points from the recent lows. Constructive operations were resumed in various motor and oil shares and in several industrial specialties.

Call money tightened to 4½ per cent in the afternoon. The upward trend of the main body of stocks, but the general level maintained a good tone to the close.

DOCTOR MUST BE IN COURT ON WEDNESDAY

When the trial of Dr. Franklin Kerr, Garden Grove physician, charged with sending poisoned candy through the mails to his estranged wife, Dr. Lucella Kerr, of Fillmore, is called Wednesday in federal court in Los Angeles, the defendant must be in court or Judge James will issue a bench warrant for his appearance and declare his $15,000 property bond forfeited, according to U. S. District Attorney S. W. McNabb, who made this declaration following the report of Dr. E. H. Anthony, government physician, that Kerr was physically able to have appeared last week when his case was called for trial.

A physician's certificate, presented, set forth the claim that Dr. Kerr was suffering from nervousness and indigestion, that a nurse was in attendance and that it would be two weeks before he would be in condition to appear.

Forthwith, Judge James ordered Dr. Anthony to investigate the condition of Kerr on behalf of the government.

In a report to the court and U. S. District Attorney McNabb, Dr. Anthony alleged that he found Dr. Kerr in the care of a nurse, as the affidavit stated, but that he was suffering from no ailment that would prevent his appearance in court.

Judge James said he would defer issuance of the bench warrant for the immediate detention of Kerr pending the calling of the case Wednesday morning.

Dr. Kerr is alleged to have mailed a package of chocolates, poisoned with cyanide, to his wife after they had marital difficulties, which resulted in a separation, with the custody of a young son being given to Mrs. Kerr. Mrs. Kerr will be the government's first witness, it was said.

Unable to Make Profit, Cleaners Increase Prices

Effective today, a new price schedule for the cleaning of clothes went into effect in Santa Ana and other cities in Southern California. Under the new scale of prices, the minimum price for cleaning and pressing men's suits will be $1.50, for women's suits, $1.75 and for silk dresses, $2. It was announced, Pressing of men's suits advanced from 50 cents to 75 cents.

The increase varies from 25 cents upwards, depending upon the prices that cleaners have been charging.

Inability of cleaners and dyers to make a profit on their investment is given as the reason for the price raise.

Simultaneous with the price boost, the initiation fee for admittance into Cleaners' and Dyers' local No. 176, Los Angeles, went from $3 to $15.

Every city in the Southland is affected by the new prices, it is stated.

EVOLVE LOW PRICE FRIGIDAIRE MODEL

A triumph in the household electrical refrigeration field is seen in the announcement of a new model of Frigidaire, the electric refrigerator.

A low-priced electric refrigerator has long been sought; and in this new Delco-Light product is seen an achievement which is expected to mean a great deal in modern household economies.

Jessee and Hill, local Frigidaire dealers, in the Grand Central building, speaking of this new piece of household equipment said, "Everybody knows that electric refrigeration for the household food supplies is a success and that the electric refrigerators which have been going into the homes of America for many months have brought a service and satisfaction which are away ahead of anything which could ever be secured from cooling with melting ice."

"Electric refrigeration," he went on, "is the modern way of cooling and keeping foods in the home. We are 25 years into the twentieth century, and people are demanding twentieth century conveniences. This electric refrigeration is a twentieth century improvement, a convenience that belongs with modern times, and anybody who can have it is going to put away the old-fashioned method of cooling with ice. They are going to have this automatic, clean and healthful system in their own homes wherever they can afford it, and this new, low-priced model puts it within the reach of anyone who really desires the advantages of modern, twentieth century refrigeration."

ORDER VENIRE OF 75 IN TAXI MURDER TRIAL

When Harry O. Baker goes on trial in San Bernardino April 28, for the murder of James Winn, taxicab driver, whose bloodstained car was abandoned in Santa Ana after the slaying, a special venire of 75 taximen will be on hand, in addition to the regular jury panel, from which to select the trial jury.

This was the word received today from San Bernardino, where Superior Judge Charles L. Allison appointed County Probation Officer George Larmore to summon the special venire. It is said to be the largest special venire in the recent history of San Bernardino county courts and indicates the widespread attention attracted by the approaching murder trial.

Winn's murder was discovered November 28, with the finding of his abandoned taxi on the street in this city. His body was found in December under an old barn on the Doyle ranch at East Highlands, where Baker formerly had been employed. Baker was found hiding near Colton on December 21. His accomplice in the slaying, H. B. Alberts, never has been apprehended.

How do you buy PAINT?

After deciding to paint your home, you should seriously consider what kind of paint to use. It is not enough to merely order "paint." Neither should you be influenced by the first cost of the paint. So-called "cheap-paints" are positively most costly. They cover less surface than good paint; cost more to apply; last but a short time; leave a bad surface for repainting; and in the end result in nothing but disappointment. The most economical paint to buy is the one of such high quality that frequent repainting is unnecessary.

It is now possible for you to distinguish between good paint and that which will not give satisfaction. For years the Government and the Institute of Paint and Varnish Research at Washington, D. C. have been conducting exhaustive tests throughout the United States to determine the best paint materials. The formula for BASS-HUETER PURE PREPARED PAINT is the final result of these tests, particularly as to the paint that will best withstand Western climatic conditions. It is made of carefully selected raw materials, scientifically proportioned, finely ground, and, as a guarantee of quality, the formula is printed on the label.

If you want a paint that will cover well, protect your property and add to the appearance of your home for years, use Bass-Hueter Pure Prepared House Paint.

You can now paint your property and pay on the Bass-Hueter Monthly Payment Plan. Call and let us explain this plan to you.

Dreams of Home Are "Something Different" Now

The pioneers and founders of America knew the value and the appreciation of living under their own roofs. Their dream was to own their own land, their own shelter. Down thru the years the movement to own one's own home has grown.

Today the dream of owning a home is a greatly enlarged vision. Its realization is made easier by modern financing. Think of the difference, though, between the home of Colonial days and that of our time.

Modern conveniences, arrangement and improvement change a dwelling place to a real home. The next step, especially in Southern California, is making the home individual—beautiful and different.

See our plans, learn the ways of making a home distinctive thru the expenditure of but a few more dollars than the cost of a mere house.

EASTER SPIRIT IS MANIFEST IN SANTA ANA; STORES REPORT DEMAND FOR SPRING APPAREL

Sales of apparel, both women's and men's, have reached large proportions in Santa Ana stores during the last few days according to information given out today.

Presumably, Easter is the reason for the increased buying, as most business establishments are showing Easter apparel.

With Easter Sunday but a few days off, it is anticipated that buying will greatly increase during the week, and that it will be necessary for the stores to enlarge their sales forces.

Merchants of this city today joined in an appeal to men and women contemplating purchasing goods to make their selections at once, while stocks are complete and the clerks are able to give proper attention to each customer.

Stocks Now Complete
While leading stores in Santa Ana are carrying complete stocks, sales would indicate that these stocks will be depleted to some extent," said a prominent local merchant today. "Thus, if buyers desire to have a wide selection from which to choose, they should do their shopping at once."

"Never in all the years that I have been in business here have I seen such attractive and complete stocks as are available in local stores. This is true of the men's shops, as well as the strictly feminine establishments."

According to word coming here from the east, Easter buying has reached unprecedented heights. So great has become the buying rush in the large cities, such as New York, Chicago and Kansas City, that the selling staffs in many of the stores have been tripped.

To most women, Easter means a new hat, and in anticipation of this feminine thought, the various millinery and department stores have secured handsome creations from all well known style centers. The large shaped hats, done in such enticing colors as henna, coco, green, tan, red, orange and yellow, continue popular. The majority of the hats are light in weight and transparent.

Buying Better Than Expected
Stores handling women's hats declare that Easter buying this year has exceeded their expectations.

"It looks like every woman in Santa Ana and vicinity was buying a new hat this season," said the proprietor of one millinery store today.

Merchants are paying more attention to seasonable styles for children than ever before, it was learned at a local department store this morning. Children's hats, coats and dresses are, to a great extent, patterned after those worn by their elders. The colors so popular in women's apparel are seen in the children's things.

Stores report that silk "prints" are ready sellers this season.

Voile dresses, trimmed in lace and black velvet ribbon, and in such colors as peach, maise, melon and coral, are being shown by one establishment. "So bewitching that they instantly remind you of a fairy," is the way they are described by the department manager.

Bobbed Collars in Vogue
Georgette ensembles with "bobbed" collars and coats are attracting attention.

The fad for "dashing" colors has brought out some of the most beautiful Spanish shawls ever handled by local stores, it is said. The Shawls come in changeable colors.

That the women are not the only ones who are interested in buying for Easter, is indicated from the fact that the men's stores are doing a rushing business.

"It is not vanity for a man or woman to want to dress up, but, on the contrary, is good sense," said a prominent merchant. "New clothes give one a feeling that the world is a pretty good place after all."

The "dress well and succeed" campaign of clothiers throughout the nation is a great success, dealers here say. Men are coming to the realization that good clothes are essential to achievement, they say.

That the men and women of Santa Ana are outfitting themselves in new clothes from head to foot is seen in the fact that all houses handling wearing apparel are doing an excellent business. Shoe sales were good throughout the past week, it is said.

MOTORISTS NEED HANDY TOOL KIT

There's nothing that will relieve the motorist in trouble of both perspiration and profanity, as readily as a good tool box equipped with a select number of tools, is the opinion of J. W. Campbell, local manager of the Western Auto Supply company.

"Two or more pairs of pliers should be included in the kit—the regular type and a heavy pair of side cutters," Campbell said.

"Screw drivers—you should have at least three; a small electrician's, a 4-inch and a large 10-inch size. Two other tools

PEARLS, PEARLS, WILL ALWAYS BE VERY SMART

Pearls, Pearls, pearls—the more we wear them the smarter they grow. Perhaps because their soft iridescent luster is so becoming—perhaps their demure simplicity expresses the feeling of the mode of today better than any other jewel. But no longer is it necessary to be able to afford a king's ransom for one slender strand. For, so beautiful are many imitation pearls that they are worn by the smartest women.

The three strand necklace is unusually smart—especially for afternoon or evening wear. But for those to whom it is becoming, the choker necklace is a great favorite. A novelty with an evening dress which is cut rather low in the back is a choker necklace with a single strand of pearls hanging down the back like a Chinaman's queue.

Many a smart woman still winds a pearl necklace about her arm for a bracelet while others wear bracelets of fine strands of tiny pearls fastened with a single stone.

And of all rings, the large pearl is quite the best. Many a well dressed woman wears two of them on her little finger—one of a faint pink-like tone—the other a soft smoke grey.

Gold and Silver
And next in importance to the vogue of pearls is gold and silver. In fact, gold and silver is even more popular—for tailored wear. There are choker necklaces of filigree gold or silver. With these are worn the new gold and silver spiral bracelets.

It is small wonder that evening frocks are very simple for they are almost covered by the huge feather fans which are quite the most recent aids to chic. They are larger than ever before and most favored when the plumes are gracefully long and uncured.

The New Gloves
The pull-on glove with a careless-looking wrinkled wrist is by all odds the newest and smartest. They have an insouciant unstudied effect which goes extremely well with the care-free mode of today, and they are equally smart with sports or more tailored attire.

A dainty little handkerchief which will complete the charm of many a summertime costume is shaped like flower petals and is seen in countless gay and gaudy colors. But the handkerchief usually chosen to accompany the smartest frocks, especially in the evening, is of linen unbelievably sheer and fine with the smallest of hand rolled hems. The gay linen handkerchief is more in the realm of sports and tailored wear.

Purses Are Still Flat
The flat purse is still the newest purse. A very clever version is seen for tailored wear which is a flat leather purse on a tiny metal frame which is so cleverly jointed that it opens out into almost a complete circle, allowing easy access to the innumerable small articles a woman likes to carry.

However, nothing is quite as smart as the leather purse of soft lizard skin with your monogram in silver mounted on one corner.

For more elaborate occasions the flat silk purse sometimes in bright colors or gaily embroidered and others exquisitely trimmed with petit point. But, of course, the luxurious beauty of a softly beaded bag must never be forgotten for it never seems to go out of fashion—especially with the soft and graceful frocks of afternoon.

that will be needed are a cold chisel and punch.
"Every motorist needs a handy vulcanizer for emergency use. The type that uses heat units and rubber patches makes a very satisfactory vulcanizing job.

"As for wrenches, the motorist will bless the day that he secured one of the handy socket sets, including a ratchet handle with extension bar and sockets to fit practically every 'hex' nut or bolt on the car.

"The tool box should also contain a heavy duty jack, good pump, tow rope, tire chains, tire gauge and an interrupter file for emergency use."

INTRODUCE JULIAN GASOLINE IN S. A.

The Julian Petroleum corporation is introducing in Santa Ana its new product, Lightning gasoline. It was announced here today by M. T. Kennedy, manager of the service station division of the company.

"This gasoline is the result of two years' experimenting and development on the part of the Julian chemical engineering staff," Kennedy said. "Julian engineers claim they have evolved a new process of refining that enables them to produce a motor fuel that furnishes more power and which eliminates the formation of carbon deposits in the motor cylinders without breaking down the lubricating oil or pitting the valves."

"In producing Lightning gasoline, we believe that we are offering the motoring public a motor fuel that has long been in demand, but which, until the present time, has never been available in quantities large enough for commercial use."

"Gasolines of high tests have been produced before which have some of the qualities of Lightning, but only in laboratories, by very tedious and expensive processes. The discovery of the process and the development of the method of production of Lightning enables the Julian Petroleum corporation to place on the market, at a price of only three cents a gallon over that of ordinary gasoline, a motor fuel that will give more mileage, materially improve the acceleration and deceleration of an automobile, and will not only keep carbon from forming, but will remove any carbon that has previously formed."

"Lightning gasoline will be sold at the Julian stations in Orange county for a period of 10 days at the same price as ordinary gasoline, after which time it will be priced at three cents a gallon over the standard price."

Millinery Mode Flights of Fancy

Our hats have been so much alike for so many seasons past, that it is with great rejoicing that we usher in a mode which has two distinct types of smartness.

First of all is the high crowned little hat with the trimming jauntily perched on its topmost peak. There never was a hat more suitable for care-free insouciant youth. There is something so pert about them that they are just as attractive as can be.

The trimming is frequently a perky little bow of the very narrowest ribbon or two soft feather pompons. However, the possibilities of many other trimmings so placed are infinite as this summer's hats readily show. In many a smart model a very attractive effect is gained by stitching a tiny fold in the top of the hat. Sometimes there is just one fold—others two folds at right angles to each other.

Brims are still so tiny that they can scarcely be called brims. And to make them appear even smaller, some are turned sharply up on one side and down on the other.

Another way of trimming is falling from one side of the brim so low and so close to the face that it almost brushes the cheek. In fact, on some of these hats, the trimming comes from beneath the brim. These hats are almost universally flattering.

Another clever type is the closely draped turban with the trimming either in the form of a feather or flowers or fruit, also placed very low next to the face. But after all the smartest hat in the world loses its chic if it is not put on just at the right angle. The days when we tilted our hats at a precarious angle over one eye are gone. Of course, we do not wear them with too precise a straightness. But it is smarter to tilt the hat forward and if it is more becoming that way—just a very little to one side.

Colored Felt Hats
For early spring the brightly colored little felt hat has won the greatest popularity. And with the return of color to a grey and frozen world, how attractive they are. All shades of purple from a deep rich tone to a pale lilac, bright orange all the popular tones of red as well as a becoming French blue are greatly in predominance. All these felts are very soft, ready to be shaped to suit the face of the wearer. Some remind us of still warmer days to come by having the under side of the brim lined with straw.

These felt hats are so smart and so becoming that they are no longer relegated simply to the world of sports or strictly tailored hours. This season one sees them with the most elaborate of afternoon frocks, and worn to almost every function which demands a hat.

However, as soon as summer weather arrives straws and silks will lead the way to smartness. Many a smart model is of silk and straw combination either in matching or contrasting colors. These hats will sometimes be more delicate in tone than the flaunting gaiety of their spring sisters.

For Sports Wear
Of course, the first consideration in choosing a hat for sports wear is comfort and suitability. And the small soft felt hats which are being shown are the most practical ever designed. Without any stiffening whatsoever, they may be carried flauntily under the arm or pulled on the head into just the shape the fair wearer prefers. They are bright or delicately tinted as a rule for white has not the great popularity it enjoyed last season.

The trimming may consist solely of the tiny folds stitched in the crown or may be a tiny felt bow perched on the top of the hat. But whatever it is it is sure to be very simple for line, color and comfort are the three rules for the smartness of sports wear.

It will be a simple matter this year to find as many charmingly becoming hats as you wish for they follow so closely the shape of the head and frequently add a little height which so many of us find most attractive.

1000 Prisoners Freed by Soviet

KIEV, April 6.—The Soviet commission, which is examining Russian prisons, has released more than 1000 prisoners, including a number who were sentenced on political charges. Others included peasants who were imprisoned for minor offenses.

Boys Will Wear Clothes Almost Like Grownups

In line with their dad's clothes which are more English in cut than ever, the boys of this spring will follow the styles of their seniors. More than ever will the influence of Harrow and Eton exert itself.

While the Norfolk model will have quite a following, the suits this spring will show less of the pleated backs and other frills which made them decidedly boyish in past years. Today the young fellow of six to sixteen is almost a replica of his dad, as far as clothes styles go.

And with these new spring modes the vest will be a prominent acquisition—something to give the youngster a lot of proud feeling, that he is a growing fellow.

Better Tailoring the Rule
Strange as it may seem the plain, the clothes the more difficult to make. That has made it necessary for manufacturers to put in needlework equal to dad's clothes. They are made for ruggedness in service, ruggedness in fabric.

Tweeds will be used largely, because this fabric adapts itself to the gymnastics of the young fellow. And this material can be successfully used in the making of the new sort of knickers and knee breeches, which are frequently sold in combination at those stores advertising two-trousers suits.

Lighter Colors to be Worn
While dark colored fabrics have been used in other years this spring will see the introduction of more and lighter light colors, especially the light browns, greens and powder blues.

In topcoats the straight hanging coat, similar to those worn by adults, will be style admitted to be best for the little fellows. These coats truly make a little gentleman of the boy.

There's little difference in the wearing apparel of the juveniles—the little fellows from two to six years of age. The middy suits or wash suits will get their play just as strong as ever particularly when warmer weather permits them to romp and frolic outdoors.

Variety of Styles
For cooler weather tweeds and serges will be the popular sellers and these will be shown in a variety of quaint and interesting styles.

As for accessories the collar-attached shirts will be worn extensively. These will be shown in plain and pin-striped effects. Stripes, too, will be shown in neckwear. As for the other fixings there will be little change from a year ago.

NEW CIVIL WAR LOOMS IN CHINA

PEKING, April 6.—China today faces another civil war.

The Manchurian war lord, Chang Tso Lin, is reported preparing to renew the 12-year struggle that has kept the nation in almost perpetual turmoil.

His opponent probably will be Gen. Feng Yu Hsiang.

Wu Pei Fu is reported to have conferred with various military chiefs and it is believed he will join General Chang's forces.

STRONG BOND OF SYMPATHY IN STYLE TREATY BETWEEN BRITAIN AND U. S. REVEALED

The style treaty that has existed between England and America evidences even a stronger bond of sympathy and acceptance this spring.

This is by no means to be taken as a submergence of our ideas to that of the English mandates but rather a following out of our own preferences because these styles have been found to make a strong appeal to the American taste. In other words we accept what we like and what we like, we like to the exclusion of all else.

Hence what you have become accustomed to know as the English type of modelling in both suits and topcoats are the sort of styles that the well-dressed man will be expected to wear for the coming spring.

"Over there" they have launched some new departures in their modelling that will, of course, influence the new phases over here. These changes are such that tend to add grace, character and dignity to the new models—things that are in keeping with the ampler lines that are characteristic of these English styles.

Call for Wider Hip.
For instance the new type of trousers calls for wider hips with a slight tapering from the hips to about a 17-inch bottom. So as to lose that abrupt wideness at the bottom that oftentimes tend to produce a dangling effect that throws the entire contour of trousers leg out of kilter.

To obviate that the spring trousers will show a considerably deeper cuff—not less than two inches, to give more weight at the bottom, to hold the trousers more firmly set to the instep and lend an appearance of more snug fit.

While these trousers are wide at the hip and from the hip down to the knee there is an absence of the "peg top" appearance that is usually associated with wide top trousers. As stated above there is a graceful, gradual tapering that has style and distinction and is far removed from any tendency toward "jazzing" the style.

Freak Styles Are Gone.
"Jazz" styles are out. The "sheik" who goes in for this type of dress will be sorrowfully put to it to remain true to his type and still conform to the prevailing fashion of the reason. He is either going to have to find a new niche of fashion in which to impress his own type of dressing or he is going to succumb to the preponderance of influence that these new English type suits have made upon the American gentlemen.

So, gentlemen, look for the almost straight-hanging trousers when you choose your spring suit—that is if you want to be truly and definitely in tune with the strictest mode.

For those men who want a more conservative compromise there will of course be slight variations of the style—a moderation of the real loose hanging trousers by more severely tapering the leg shape and giving more body-conforming lines to the coat.

The coats in these strictly English suits carry broad shoulders with a slight tapering at the waist. The sleeves are fairly ample in width and the chestiness of the coat while it is there is lost from notice by the straight down effect of the coat fronts.

There is more spread to the front of the collar which flits snugly in back and the flares out a bit to meet a fairly broad, blade-like lapel. This detail is particularly prominent in the double-breasted suits of which there will be many worn this spring—more than in usual in the spring season for the double-breasted suit has always been more seriously considered as a winter style.

Some Four-button Styles.
Both two and three-button single-breasted suits are in the vogue and in the more decided models even some four-button suits—a type we have not seen much of in the recent seasons. There is very little of pocket or cuff ornamentation in the mode. For the most part the pockets are of the set-in order or with the plain flap.

Cuffs are either severely plain or having a slight vent of the French cuff nature.

Single-breasted Vests.

Vests are for the most part single-breasted, though many of the models for the younger men show double-breasted effects. These vests are cut high and have only a slight V at the top and even extend to the bottom. The front modelling is of the straight-front order. The double-breasted vests have almost a semicircular bend from top to lower bottoms. Many of them are double-breasted.

Topcoats are of two models. The most fashionable in London just now is patterned after the guard overcoat. That means very chesty, narrow shoulders, body-tracing at the waist and a decided flare to the skirt. These coats are just slightly below the knee in length. The other model is a tubular coat.

This is a straight-hanging affair from armpits to bottom. It falls to the calf of the leg and is severely straight with but very little fullness to the skirt. These tubular topcoat are mostly single-breasted, button-through models. A few are fly-front models. These excepting that they are longer are modelled very much along lines of the conservative Chesterfield.

Belted coats, even the back-belt style, are sparsely shown and where shown at all are in the rain-coat textures.

Fawn Shades Favored.
There are two outstanding shades in the coloring of the spring suit fabrics. A fawn shade promises much advance popularity. In fact in many of the items of apparel for spring there is a strong flavor of fawn colorings. From these there will vary many tones of tan and the lighter brown shades.

The other big color note in spring fabrics is an azure blue—a slight departure from the popular powder blues of last spring. These blues hover on the border of the gray tones and cadet effects. They lend themselves very splendidly to smart patterning and the combining with other contrasting tones.

Lavenders also are given some prominence in the finer fabrics—especially those that come from foreign looms. Blues with a purplish cast are also shown in the higher priced suitings.

The patterns for spring show an emphatic return to stripes. These stripes are not the hair-line effects of past seasons nor are the broader chalkline stripes but a compromise between that can only be described as stripes of moderate degree. These stripes are on blue, brown or fawn grounds with contrasting stripes of red, purple, lavender, blue grey or green. Few black and white stripe combinations are shown.

Solid Tans in Tweeds.
The other patterns run principally to neat mixtures and sedate over-plaids. Few of the louder plaids and prominent checks are shown in the better lines. Many solid tans are shown in light tweeds.

By the way light tweeds are very popular fabrics for this season. Casimeres take second position and after them the better grades of flannels. As the season advances toward mid-summer many gaberdines light weight coverlets and palm beach cloths will be shown in the two-piece suits. It is during this period that the fawn trend will assert itself and probably a stronger revival of sport details in these mid-summer suits.

Of course in the early spring suits compromise is always made to the business suits worn by the more mature men. Such men are hard to wean away from the finer class of worsteds and serges. There is something about the subdued patterning and set durability of worsteds that makes the conservative dresser favor them. In deference to this class of buyers all the stores will show plenty of worsted and serge weaves in the more conservative or business models.

Golf Suits English, Too!
Strange to say that golf suits which have long been characterized by sport details show a very pronounced absence of sport treatment in the new spring models. Even these golf suits are characteristically English with their straight-front coats, straight-hang trousers and absence of belts, pleats, yokes and other ornamentalities.

This trend is largely due to the fact that so many men are buying the four-piece suits, wearing the knickers for golf and the long trousers for other occasions and on these other occasions they desire that the coat should have the real prevailing style features. Even in the pattern treatments the golf suits are becoming more quiet in tone—the more subdued patterns taking precedence over the larger plaids and bog checks of past seasons.

As far as shape is concerned there will be little difference in the styles of the hats that men will wear this spring and those worn last fall. But the most radical change will be in the bands that go around the hats. Some manufacturers have introduced the fancy band, braids similar to those worn around the straw hats. The colors, however, will not be pronounced but there will be a fine stripe or two running through the bands—just enough color to make the man's hat a noticeable part of his ensemble.

As stated shapes in many instances are like those of last fall, but there is a considerable group which show a decided swing and curl to the brim.

Fedora Shape Always Good
Fedora and Alpine shapes, in good taste for many years, will prevail once more. But there is a growing demand for the diamond and dented in shapes by the younger fellows. The tipped-down fronts too, will be worn more than ever. As will be noted there is quite a variety as far as shapes go. A group of hat makers attempted to put over the green hat, but the success of this venture wasn't as marked as the sale of the book called "The Green Hat". A second effort will be made this spring, but the retailer's forecast doesn't speak any too hopefully.

Light colors, of course, will be the vogue. Among them pearl grays promise to give every other shade the battle for popularity. Then there will be tans and a few lavenders to match the suits of the same tone.

Sailor Straws Continue
For summer wear the light weight straw wins in the long run. It has been the old standby for many years and promises to hold its popularity for years, unless something novel and striking displaces it.

Whites, light browns and tans will be shown and worn largely. In recent years there has been introduced many weaves of straws and most of them have had followers. They probably will all appear when straw hat day is announced.

Black bands, of course, will be worn with most of these straws, but it is predicted that the color bands to go with the general color or scheme of dress will make great inroad. Most of these will show one or two fine colored stripes.

Old Standbys Remain
The old timers, panamas and loghorns, will carry off the honors among the older men who are wedded to their comfort and there is a certain following among the younger fellows who will follow step.

The derby, which at one time was the spring and fall hat, probably will gain no more converts than it did a year ago. In caps, rich, distinctive over-all patterns will be shown.

Now that frocks are short again shoes are more noticeable and more important than ever. But so many charming new shoes are offered for your selection that you are certain to enjoy your shoe shopping more than ever before.

For the daytime and for street wear, the trimly tailored pump walks the smartest paths of fashion. Sometimes it is quite unadorned but just as often the flash and gleam of a cut steel buckle lends a charming finish to a well shod foot. Patent or dull leather are equally good.

For the Afternoon
In the afternoon slippers become more elaborate both in color and design. Many charming models are intricate with unusual strappings and sometimes agleam with buckles. Blonde kid or blond satin slippers will be seen with many a charming afternoon costume. Lizard and alligator are still smart but they are most popular when combined with plain kid. However, if the gown is rather elaborate the slipper is simpler—frequently a high heeled opera pump, for an elaborately strapped slipper with an elaborate brogue gives a feeling of fussiness which is not of the mode of today.

On Warmer Days
With the delicate frocks of summertime, the pastel slipper is very smart. Frequently it harmonizes with the deepest tone found in the costume or it is very chic to have it match the felt hat.

In the evening the strappings on slippers become more elaborate than ever. Some slippers show the sandal cut which goes right to the sole and shows a very broad expanse of the foot. However here again the opera pump is also very smart if you prefer it.

Gold and silver brocaded slippers are always good. But even newer are the dyed satin slippers.

These slippers are dyed to match the deepest tone in the dress or if the dress is all of one color they are dyed a deeper shade. Such as with a lilac dress, a slipper on the same tone but almost purple. This accent of color gives a perfectly charming effect on the dance floor.

Nude Hose
Of course the most popular shade of hosiery is nude. Nude hose always with colored slippers, in either the afternoon or evening. For more tailored wear the smart woman chooses a slightly darker tone.

Jazz Shoe Styles Show Weakening

First glimpses of the spring shoe tree indicate that the men's style subject is much broader than in past seasons.

As season upon season moves in and out, there is a pronounced weakening in the "jazzy" or extreme style model. While the young men's models are carved on strenuous lines embodying the spirit of the well dressed youth, there is a distinct tendency toward the medium conservative and more sensible models.

Contrast in Ages
One feature that is brought out sharply in the spring styles is the noticeable contrast between the ideal type of shoe for the young men and styles for those of a more advanced age. Heretofore, the general style situation applied equally to youth as well as men of more advanced age.

Formerly, both young and more elderly men found equal acclaim in the same type of shoes, whether extremely "doggy" or conservatively plain. But the advent of balloon tires on automobiles and balloon trousers on the youth of America has founded a new note in youthful footwear. This is expressed in the broad and blunt toed oxford and shoe.

Almost every man other than the young blood finds this type of shoe too "swaggy," and there is a distinct preference among these older men towards the more conservative medium full toe. The wide range of the spring style displays allows for an exceedingly large number of patterns to choose from.

Unusual is the Display
Most patterns being shown are very attractive. Workmanship and designing skill have been effectively applied in producing some exceptional variations of the newest trend. Coupled with the commanding colors of the various leathers, an attractive display makes its debut on the spring shoe tree.

The most prominent colors are tans and blacks—while one of the lighter shades of tan is marked by an absolute absence of red in it, another darker shade is contrasted by a faint tint of red.

Using More Pigskin
Particularly pleasing in the spring assortment is the wide and varied selection of sport and golf shoes. Many experiments to combine new pattern effects with more practical soles and tops have resulted in many handsome and comfortable shoes. Pigskin, heretofore in the decline, is on the ascent towards popularity and is being made into many attractive and novel designs.

Broadcasting the Spring Fashion Harmonies

We are going to be feminine—and graceful once more. Not that we are forgetting the lesson of charm which has been taught us by the slender simplicity of the last few years. Rather, we are taking those same slender lines and developing them with more grace and sophistication—more variation and individuality.

The tailored frock maintains its straight bodice symmetry, but many a model has cleverly added an inverted pleat in the front for greater ease as well as beauty in walking. Other models also preserve a flat back but are circular across the front.

Some of the tailored frocks, but a great many of the softer models, are distinguished by a skirt which flares gracefully from the knee down. In the softer fabrics it seems to give the loveliest floating effect when you walk or dance.

However, all our frocks have learned that simplicity is the straight pathway to smartness and the smooth flowing lines are not broken.

The two newest thoughts for the afternoon frock are the jabot and the attached scarf. The jabot is usually of a fine soft lace or chiffon or crepe, falling in the most graceful folds down the side front of a dress, or on either side of a center front closing. The attached scarf which may be worn across the shoulders or carelessly thrown about the throat gives an unusually graceful charm.

Never was chiffon more popular. And what a charming fashion it is. Soft, lovely, graceful it floats about the figure with a fairy-like charm yet clings enough to show the lithe grace of slenderness. It is a happy choice of loveliness to get a chiffon frock. And the very newest is the daytime chiffon frock. Simply made with a long sleeve or one softly flowing below the elbow, they will be seen at even the most informal of luncheons and afternoon affairs. It is such a delightful mode that it is only surprising that we have not followed it before.

Many of these frocks are black trimmed with white or a very delicate shell pink chiffon. Slim of line with a soft ruffle extending from just a little above the knee they are utterly becoming. The neck is sometimes finished with a type or a jabot of the lighter chiffon or a smart scarf collar—these scarf collars just fastened across the back of a round neck are extremely smart on frocks for evening as well as afternoon wear.

But she who wishes a daytime chiffon need not confine her desires simply to black and white, for printed chiffons have taken the smart world by storm. For more informal wear there are soft novelty plaids—some most amusingly copied from the designs commonly found in their more humble sister, gingham. These frocks are frequently trimmed with a plain chiffon of a harmonizing tone and sometimes with softest jabots of lace.

For the Evening

The vogue of chiffon for evening will be welcomed by the woman who realizes how cool, dainty and ethereal it makes her seem on the hottest of summer nights. These chiffon dance frocks favor the simple round neck rather than the more elaborate decolletage of winter.

For tailored wear kasha and the ribbed silks lead the field far in advance of all other materials. The kasha frock is frequently seen in the ever present two piece frock. These frocks are very smart when they feature the new inverted pleat or the circular front. The blouse is straight, slim and boyish—very charming for the slender supple figure. The ribbed silks fashion trim coat frocks, which open down the front over a crepe de chine slip of a contrasting shade.

The jabot is the mark of smartness on many a slender silk frock. Sometimes the jabot falls from the neck-line to the foot of the skirt, or sometimes just to the waist. These jabots are marvels of simplicity, falling in long, graceful folds, never in fussy frills.

Simple Frock Favored

For warm days of summer the soft, simply made frock of crepe is a charming favorite and several of them will be included in every woman's wardrobe.

The smart world is weary of all white costumes which were such a leading mode the past year. Now the lovely soft pastel tones which are so becoming, so flattering, are the great favorites. Peach especially, then pale lilac, pale green, pale yellow and blue. An old ivory or an oyster shade are the nearest shades to white which the smart woman wears.

As a contrast and a change from these light shades every wardrobe is certain to include some gaily colored printed effects either in crepe or chiffon.

Practically everything that is smart is ensemble. The evening frock has its matching cape, the chiffon frock its silk coat, the kasha frock its silk coat, the crepe frock its crepe coat. Of course, few of us can afford this profusion of wraps, but every smart wardrobe should boast at least one ensemble.

Probably the most practical is the silk frock or coat for the occasions for wear. A costume is innumerable.

The New Coats

As straight and slim of line as ever are the coats which fashion has chosen as her smartest models. Some follow the mode of dresses with a light fullness below the knee but they fit closely about the figure.

The honors are fairly evenly divided between the fur trimmed coat and the one finished with collars and cuffs of the material. The satin or heavy silk coat sometimes trimmed with a long haired fur is particularly good for rather dressy occasions. But

For Outdoor Days

It is going to be a pastel summer! And the loveliest shades you ever dreamed of are leading the mode to a more utterly becoming beauty than ever before. Soft shades of peach are most popular while lilac or lavender, pale green, blue, light yellow—in fact, all the most exquisite pastel shades form a close second. White has passed its zenith of popularity and if one does not wish to wear the pastel shades a lovely tone of ivory or an oyster white is very smart.

For Cooler Days

For early spring sports wear and for cooler days of summer kasha in soft pastel tones is very popular and natural kasha seems to have taken the smart world by storm. These kasha frocks are newest in the two piece models. The skirts are fuller than before, allowing much more grace and comfort of motion. Many of them have an inverted pleat in the middle or side front for though this year's skirts are fuller, the lines, especially of sport frocks, are straight. Some of these skirts are entirely pleated while others have a circular fullness just across the front.

The blouse is generally a simple straight little slip on with a "V" neck.

But though the two-piece costume reigns as favorite, some smartly simple kasha frocks are one piece. These one piece frocks, for variation's sake, are frequently seen made with a light shade of kasha from the neck to the hipline, and a slightly darker shade from the hipline to the bottom of the frock. Many perfectly charming color combinations are seen, some of the loveliest of which have oyster white or natural kasha combined with an exquisite pastel shade.

The Ensemble

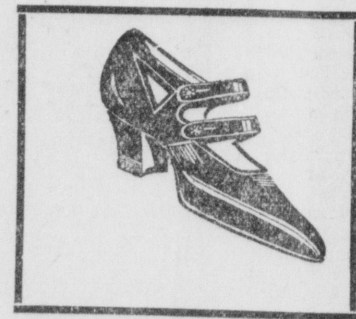

The ensemble costume is so popular now that as might be expected its sway has extended to the world of sports. The ensemble suit of kasha is the very smartest and it is also very practical for the coat can frequently be used with all one's other sports things.

The chic of flannel must not be overlooked in this rage for kasha, as many a smart flannel sports frock will be seen at all the most fashionable summering places.

The Sports Coat

Of course, with kasha as the leading fabric, many of the sports coats are developed in it. They are designed on very straight slender lines with narrow shoulders. Many are unlined and have a very simple treatment of the neck and wrist line—usually without fur trimming. Some very smart models of

Installs Machine To Aid Diagnosis

A neurothermometer, which measures the pressure upon the nerve and is one of the most sensitive devices that the chiropractic profession has ever received, has been installed by a Santa Ana chiropractor, Dr. Paul Taylor, 407 1-2 North Main street.

In discussing the neurothermometer, Dr. Taylor said:

"This instrument proves an established objective record by a physical scientific method, as to the location of spinal nerve pressures and mental impulse interferences, thereby eliminating the very questionable human equation of hidden and subjective conditions. We all know that the spine is the gateway to our entire nervous system and therefore the key to most of our ailments.

"I believe that, with the aid of this wonderful device, those people who long have been considered in the light of hopeless cases will now be enabled to regain and enjoy health. This latest invention, in my opinion, is one of the greatest steps our science has made."

S. A. FINANCIER FILES SUIT ON MEXICAN STOCK

The distant yachting club "Isoletes," tucked away in the Coronado islands, off the coast of Baja California, was today peacefully unimpaired of the storm brewing in affairs of its owners, far to the northward, in Orange county courts.

The first warning ripple of the storm came with the filing of a suit in superior court here by E. D. Burge, Santa Ana capitalist, against Alberto Metra, holder of a lease on Coronado islands, granted by the Mexican government, and W. R. Featherstone, agent of Metra, in formation of the fishing and yachting club there. The suit was filed to establish ownership of a block of stock in the club, which Burge financed at the time of organization, it is said.

Acts for Own Protection
Burge, it is indicated in the papers filed here, is not concerned in the embroilment, which is waged between Metra and Featherstone. It is indicated further that Burge does not want to be dragged into the dispute, and that his action in court is a "hand-washing" gesture, for his own protection. Attorney Charles D. Swanner represents him in the proceedings.

A block of 4781 shares of stock, representing an equal number of Mexican pesos in value, is the storm center. Featherstone placed this block of stock with Burge in March, 1924, under an option of purchase. Metra subsequently interfered and claimed that the stock belongs to him instead of Featherstone. Both notified Burge that they would hold him liable for the stock, so Burge decided to pass responsibility along to the courts. In his suit, he asks leave to deposit the stock with the court, and asks that Metra and Featherstone be required to interplead in the case, and set forth their respective claims to the stock, from which the court may decide who is rightful owner.

Cash Payment and Stock
According to the papers on file, Metra commissioned Featherstone to interest capital in financing the fishing and yachting club on the islands leased to Metra. A cash payment and a percentage of stock were to be Featherstone's commission.

Under an agreement subsequently arranged with Burge, a block of stock was awarded to Burge, and another block to Metra, to be shared with Featherstone, while a third block was to be offered for sale. Metra is said to contend that Burge's share was to be 9552 shares, but that Featherstone diverted half of that stock, or 4781 shares, to himself, Burge apparently not being aware that he was supposed to get it. Featherstone subsequently offered the 4781 shares of stock for sale to Burge, as being Featherstone's property. An option agreement was signed between them, the stock being deposited in trust with Burge. Learning of this, Metra demanded return of the 4781 shares to him, together with the block of stock given Featherstone as a commission. Featherstone "stuck to his guns" and both notified Burge, as stated, that they would hold him liable for the stock.

Not desiring to be involved in the dispute, Burge, it is said, decided it was a matter for the courts to settle.

BEACH TENT CITY PROPERTY SOLD

LAGUNA ABEACH, April 6.—The Laguna Beach Tent City has changed hands. H. G. Heisler has sold the property to Albert Cohn, capitalist of Los Angeles, and A. H. Fanning, retired candy manufacturer of Anaheim. Mr. Heisler refused to state the price, but it is known that recently he refused an offer of $60,000 for the land and equipment.

Mr. Fanning has announced to friends here his intention of moving to Laguna Beach in the near future. Plans for the Tent City property have not been announced, but it was not denied that plans have been drawn for a modern hotel. The carrying out of the project will depend upon the speed with which the new water system is put through, this being absolutely necessary to the operation of a big plant.

This sale is the largest land deal in Laguna Beach in many years. Mr. Heisler still owns more than 1000 feet of coast boulevard property.

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

SECOND ROUND INDOOR GAMES OPEN TONIGHT

Chandlers Take on Scribes To Begin Week; Gas Men Meet Roehm-Sylvesters

With every evidence that its first pennant chase will develop into a most heated and exciting battle between almost any of the eleven clubs, the Santa Ana Indoor Baseball league will begin its second week of play at the new Poly diamond here tonight.

The Chandler Furniture company, O. A. Hales, McFadden Hardware company, Robertson Electric and the Excelsior Creamery teams slipped through the first week with their slate clean but all the clubs that suffered defeat showed promise and will pick up as the season grows older.

One of these undefeated aggregations—the Chandlers—open this week's festivities tonight against The Register. Following their sensational victory over the Southern Counties Gas company, the furniture store players are favorites to glom a second win from the scribes. The newspapermen, however, got some great pitching from Donny Jerome last week and if they give their little mound some support they may make it rough on Earl Jones' outfit.

The Gas company meets the Roehm-Sylvesters tomorrow night in a match that should be a dandy pitcher's duel between Wayne Nelson, the "smoke-ball" star, and "Red" Angell, a comparatively inexperienced but nevertheless a very plucky heaver.

With a couple of crack pitchers in Clair Head and Hitt, the Kiwanis club may throw a monkey-wrench into the pennant race when it meets the O. A. Hales Wednesday night. The latter team, however, is composed almost entirely of veteran players and it will be a real upset if they are beaten.

Thursday night will mark the debut of the Southern California Edison company aggregation, which hooks up with the McFaddens, the Pole-Climbers. It is understood, have assembled a real all-star team that may figure as the "dark-horse" of the season.

The week's activity will be concluded Friday night when the Fluor Construction company and the Robertson Electric company clubs collide.

The Excelsiors draw a bye this week and will remain idle. The league standings:

Nurmi's Rival To Race Champion In Los Angeles Meet

PAAVO NURMI

The world's champion distance runner, Paavo Nurmi of Finland, will have strong competition when he runs at Los Angeles April 25 under the auspices of the California post of the Rainbow division. Willie Ritola, Nurmi's fellow countryman and most bitter rival, has announced he will come to Los Angeles and make an effort to beat Paavo over an outdoor course.

Fights and Fighters

NEW YORK—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, may be reinstated tomorrow by the New York Boxing commission to make way for a match with Harry Greb, middleweight champion, as the feature of a benefit show. Walker was suspended for failing to accept a challenge from Dave Shadle but it is understood that Shadle cannot make the weight and will not press the claim.

CHICAGO—A ten round bout between Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., claimant of the light-weight title, and Joe Benjamin, California, protege of Jack Dempsey, may be arranged for July 4 at Michigan City, according to Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons.

"The Vernon club has been built almost entirely with young players, but we have a stronger and faster team than last year," believes Bill Essick. "We have fasters fielding forces than a year ago and our pitching staff has been strengthened by the addition of Oldham, Barfoot and Weiner."

Ivan Howard, Oakland manager, is willing to "let the other managers win the pennants in pre-season statements if they wish. I will content myself with predicting the Oaks surely will finish in the first division. We have lost a crack pitcher in Walter Mills but I think we acquired his equal in "Hub" Pruett.

"You can say whether we have any success or not, we will be in there battling and unless I am mistaken the Bees will win a lot of ball games before next October," was the comment of Oscar Vitt, Salt Lake manager.

"It looks like the best aggregation we ever had," said Buddy Ryan, Sacramento chief. "Our chances for a pennant seem the best for several years."

COAST LEAGUE TEAMS AWAIT OPENING GAME

Every Manager In Circuit Believes Club To Finish High In Pennant Race

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Again the season of pop bottles, soft seats for a dime and the roar of animated crowds is at hand. The Pacific Coast league swings into its 1925 schedule tomorrow afternoon. Baseball once more is king of sports.

In four coast cities crowds will pack the grandstands. There will be the customary floral pieces, band concerts and awkward toss of the first ball by some dignitary. Behind the home plate a blue coat will yell, "batter up!" and "robber," "crook," "attaboys" and "go on, you dumbbell!" will again become choice words.

Teams matched for the opening games include Oakland at Sacramento; Vernon at Salt Lake; Seattle at San Francisco and Portland at Los Angeles.

The 1925 season finds changes on all coast teams. "Old familiar faces" are missing; new ones are in their place, anxious to make good. The critical fans are withholding judgment, welcoming the seasoned players they know and waiting for the new ones to show their wares.

Managers Hopeful
With eight teams in the league, eight pennant winners are predicted by the home town fans, but not by the managers. An optimistic and hopeful outlook but one without bragadoles or assurance is held by the pilots of this year's teams.

The United Press asked managers of the teams for brief statements of the season's prospects and found them acknowledging that anything can happen and the next six months may hold many surprises.

"Red" Killefer, manager of the Seattle Indians, winners of last year's pennant, is hoping for another victory. "We had to make a whirlwind finish last season to end in front and I think the club that wins this year will have to fight harder," Killefer said. "While not predicting the Indians will repeat, I would say that we have a club which will be a strong contender for the flag."

"It will be a disappointment to me if the Los Angeles club does not finish the season in first division," said Marty Krug, manager of the Angels. "We have a good hitting club and a first class pitching staff."

Bert Ellison, San Francisco manager, said the pitching staff which was weak in 1924, has been strengthened. "This should help us breeze through to a championship," he believes. "In my opinion, Dick Moudy will prove the pitching sensation of the league. Besides, we have acquired Jack Pfeiffer and Doug McWeeny, two dependable box men. We have also strengthened our outfield by purchasing Frank Brower from Cleveland."

"Portland will be represented by a stronger team than it had last season," said Duffy Lewis, Beavers' pilot. "The absence of Poole, first baseman, and Jones, shortstop, hampers the team at the start but we hope to secure capable players to fill their positions shortly."

"The Vernon club has been built almost entirely with young players, but we have a stronger and faster team than last year," believes Bill Essick. "We have fasters fielding forces than a year ago and our pitching staff has been strengthened by the addition of Oldham, Barfoot and Weiner."

Hartnett is rated one of the best catchers in the league, while Stutz is a first-class outfielder.

SAN DIEGO EASILY WINS LEAGUE TRACK MEET; NEW NATIONAL RECORD IS SET

One national interscholastic record and 10 league marks were shattered when the crack San Diego high school track team, probably the best balanced prep aggregation in the United States, easily won the second annual Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach Saturday afternoon with 52 points. Pasadena was second with 27 points, Long Beach third with 24 and Santa Ana and Fullerton tied for fourth with 15 each. Whittier brought up the rear guard with 2 digits.

The new national mark was set up by the San Diego relay team which, despite a slow track, negotiated the half mile in 1 min. 31 7-10 seconds.

Howard Paul, Santa Ana's brilliant broad jumper, was defeated for the first time this season in one of the day's major events, the diminutive Poly lad was leading with a jump of 21 feet, 7 inches, until Osborne of Fullerton, on his last jump, beat this by three-fourths of an inch. Osborne was "found" early this week when he jumped 22 feet during an informal gymnasium meet. He never had broad jumped in his life until last week, it was said.

Paul, however, won the 220 yard low hurdles by five yards and in so doing broke the league record. His time was 26.6. Paul also got third in the 100 yard dash.

Other Santa Ana points were won by Ray Dawson who was second in the shot, Alan McDermott who took fourth in the broad jump, Keith Howard who was fourth in the 440 and Harvey Bear who nabbed fourth in the 220.

New league records were set in the 100 and 220 by Doty of Long Beach; the 120 yard hurdles by Chase of San Diego; the 220 yard low hurdles by Paul of Santa Ana; the mile by Moeller of San Diego; the high jump by A. Larsen of Pasadena; and the broad jump by Osborne of Fullerton.

McCormick, San Diego's star miler, was defeated by Lewis of Long Beach who piled up a 30 yard lead in the first lap and retained it at the end although McCormick threatened on the third time around. Lewis' time of 4:41.7 was exceedingly good and stamps him as a dangerous adversary for Carnahan, the Riverside flyer.

Welch, captain of the Pasadena team, might have established a high hurdle mark that would stand for many years had he not stumbled on his last barrier and fallen to the ground. He was so far ahead that he regained his feet and took the tape by inches over Chase but he knocked three hurdles and was disqualified.

Pasadena's lightweight won the Class C meet with very little opposition. The young Bulldogs had 32 points. Fullerton was second with 16, Long Beach third with 12, and Santa Ana fourth with 11.

BENJAMIN, HUDKINS BATTLE TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Featuring Southern California boxing bouts this week is the 10-round bout between Joe Benjamin and Ace Hudkins, at Doyle's Vernon arena tomorrow night.

Hudkins holds the Hollywood American Legion lightweight title belt and the bout with Benjamin will settle the question of superiority.

Another bout of interest this week is the 10-rounder featuring Dode Becot and Mushy Callahan, at Hollywood Friday night.

Kid Mexico and Lou Rollinger, light heavyweights, are in the principal spot on the Wilmington card for Wednesday, with Jackie Fields and Jimmy Young in the semi-wind-up. Both bouts are scheduled for eight rounds.

BOSTON—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, and Jack Sharkey of Boston meet here tonight in a 10 round decision bout.

"Boxing has progressed greatly and is now on a firm foundation in New York," Senator Walker said. "Once it was only tolerated, never encouraged. It is now a profession that does not bring shame on anyone who enters it. No one connected with boxing need apologize for it now."

SHORT SPORTS
KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Babe Ruth who is ill with an attack of the grippe, is causing the New York Yankees some worry. The Babe ought to be in bed now, the doctors say, but he will not go. He hit two homers yesterday but Brooklyn won 13 to 6.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The final battle of the St. Louis Browns-Nashville exhibition series will be played today with a probability of Dave Danforth facing Fred Toney, the former Cardinal twirler. The Browns swatted out an easy 13 to 2 victory unday.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—After a short stopover at Jacksonville, Fla., on the way north, the Boston Braves arrived here for a game with Rochester today. Eddie Smith, rookie shortstop, was left in St. Petersburg with a fractured nose and Bill Cunningham was released to Sacramento. Smith will join the club later.

FOREIGN TRADE COUNCIL WILL MEET IN JUNE

NEW YORK, April 6.—The twelfth national foreign trade convention to be held at Seattle, Wash., June 24-25-26, will mark the most comprehensive international conference of foreign traders held under the auspices of the National Foreign Trade Council since it was founded in 1914.

The delegations which have already accepted the council's invitation include representative groups of business men who will come from Japan, China, India, Straits Settlements, the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines. As announced by the council's headquarters here group sessions will be held on American foreign trade problems for each one of these eastern nations and at each group session at least two of the speakers will be business men from the country under discussion. They will present their estimate of current local conditions on credits, selling methods, packing, shipping, finance, advertising and other matters vital to the stability and growth of American foreign trade in each of these countries.

Extend Personal Invitation
A special mission of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, comprising 20 leaders of the manufacturing and exporting industries of the Northwest, which has just returned to the United States, conveyed the invitation of the council to the Orient.

In recognition of improved conditions in Mexico, an additional group session will be attended by representatives of the American Chamber of Commerce in Mexico. Delegates will also be present from Canada, South Africa and other British dominions, while delegates from the Halle Chamber of Commerce in Germany will also attend in the interests of the Leipzig fair.

Last year, declares James A. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, in his call to the convention, the volume of American trade exceeded $2,000,000,000 tons, or more than 252,000 tons for every day in the year.

Stability in Europe
"This year," Farrell says, "gives promise of exceeding 1924. There is a new assurance of stability and progress in Europe, where steady improvement has been made for the last six years. There is increasing activity in the countries across the Pacific, as well as in South America and other overseas markets. American foreign traders have seldom, if ever, faced a more hopeful outlook."

Other features of the convention include the annual trade adviser service, conducted by seasoned foreign traders for personal conference on current problems of American exporters and importers, and group meetings of export, sales and credit managers, exporters and importers, educators and foreign department executive of banks.

Three special trains, with sleeping car connections from all eastern and central cities are scheduled to leave Chicago for the convention by the Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Northern Pacific railroads. The cities of the Pacific northwest, led by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, have made special arrangements for business and sightseeing tours.

Ontario to Pass New Beer Measure

TORONTO, Ont., April 6.—The government beer bill, which will raise the strength of beer permissible for sale under the Ontario temperance act from the present 2 1/2 per cent to 4.4 per cent proof spirits, will come before the legislature again, probably Tuesday, for the third reading and final passage. It will then at once be signed by the lieutenant governor and will become a law upon proclamation by order in council.

With possibly two or three exceptions, government members are solidly behind the beer amendment and additional support will come from the three Labor members and probably five or six Liberals, the Progressives being the only group apparently solid in opposition. The new beer will be about five times the strength of that permitted under the American Volstead act.

Develop Sunday School Work In South America

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, April 6.—Rapid development of the Sunday school work of the evangelical churches in South America, until today there are 2153 Sunday schools with an enrollment of 108,000 teachers and pupils in the ten republics, was reported by the commission on religious education of the congress on Christian work in South America, in session in this city.

Dr. Eric M. North, assistant secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, New York city, was chairman of the commission making this survey.

Brazil has the largest number of evangelical Sunday schools, 1275, and it has 60,145 teachers and pupils, according to the commission's findings. In the other republics the figures are: Argentina, 258 schools and 12,252 enrollment; Bolivia, 17 schools and 842 enrollment; Chile, 190 schools and 10,632 enrollment; Colombia, 10 schools and 304 enrollment; Ecuador, 10 schools and 300 enrollment; Paraguay, 4 schools and 252 enrollment; Peru, 61 schools and 4401 enrollment; Uruguay, 45 schools and 2222 enrollment; Venezuela, 15 schools and 246 enrollment.

Three Are Killed In Quarry Blast

BERLIN, April 6.—The third severe industrial accident within 24 hours occurred when three men were reported killed in a granite quarry explosion at Malsburg.

Earlier in the day, two men were known to have been killed and several others were missing when a mine elevator broke from its cables and plunged to the bottom of the Mattheis Stunes mine at Essen. In both the Malsburg and Essen accidents, scores were injured, some probably fatally.

A gasoline station explosion dangerously injured 15 men in the Thuringia automobile factory, at Arnstadt.

Ten Radicals Are Released on Bail

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Ten alleged Communists, arrested for disturbing an anti-soviet meeting at Labor temple here, will go to trial on April 29.

The radicals were released on bail, after pleading not guilty in Judge Bullock's court.

Nine of them will be tried on charges of disturbing a public meeting. The tenth, Malomod Pink, 20, is accused of inciting to riot.

Police arrested the alleged agitators late Thursday night when Communists raided a meeting where Raphael Abramovich was lecturing against Bolshevism.

Pasadena Elects League Nominees

PASADENA, April 6.—Four members of the Pasadena board of directors will be replaced by candidates of the Municipal Voters' league, according to complete official returns of Thursday's city election.

The incumbents who were defeated for re-election are M. D. Snowball, Carl C. Thomas, Fred R. Harris and Frank May.

The successful candidates were A. N. Cole, F. B. Cole, Carl Newcomer and William Easterbrook.

The Municipal Voters' league has conducted a campaign against the present city manager form of government, but the candidates supported by the organization did not endorse this program.

Woman Killed On Grapevine Curve

BAKERSFIELD, April 6.—Mrs. Walter S. Saunders, of Inglewood, was killed Saturday when the automobile in which she was riding overturned at Grapevine curve, near here, on the Ridge route, and plunged down an embankment.

Her husband, and two sons, Robert, 10, and John, 12, were slightly injured in the crash. A wet pavement caused the machine to skid as it rounded the curve.

Sentence Slayer To Death by Gas

ELY, Nev., April 6.—Nevada will again use lethal gas as a means of taking human life.

Stanko Kujich, found guilty of slaying 16-year-old Jennie Madex, when she refused to marry him, today was under sentence of death in the gas chamber at the state prison in Carson City.

The execution is to take place between June 21 and 27. The method of execution claimed nationwide attention when it was instituted, two orientals having thus far been "successfully" killed.

Greatest Run of Smelt Is Ended

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—The greatest smelt run in the history of the Sandy river—Troutdale residents say in the history of the world, is ended.

The annual smelt run this season lasted just 20 days. Heretofore it seldom lasted a week.

Observers reported that the last of the smelt went up stream from Troutdale late Friday.

During the run, tons of smelt were taken by amateur and commercial fishermen. They were so thick that they could be scooped up easily in nets and baskets.

SCOTLAND YARD TRIES TO SOLVE SKULL MYSTERY

LONDON, April 6.—The story of a degenerate madman is being pieced together by Scotland Yard as detectives attempt to solve the mystery of "poison cottage," where Granville Cooke and Selwyn Foster met death.

Unrelenting search through the dilapidated shack has revealed a pile of skulls, a complete skeleton in a pot full of quicklime, and indiscriminately scattered heaps of bones.

In the weed-ridden garden were found several bodies. In a large house, which 25 years ago was operated by Cooke's father as an anatomical school, police came upon a shelf after shelf of poison pills.

Whether the bones found in such gruesome numbers represented relics of the old school, or victims of diabolical orgies alleged to have taken place in the alleyway cottage, is not yet known, but police are questioning men and women who are believed to have known Cooke.

Nab Two Charged With Bill Raising

BUENOS AIRES, April 6.—With the arrest of two alleged counterfeiters, police believe they have laid bare a gang that has operated throughout the world on false American $5000 bills. David Frenk, a German, and Max Imaldin, a Russian, were arrested and a quantity of $5, and $1 bills, which had been changed to the $5000 denomination, was seized.

Section 20.

EVENING SALUTATION

When all is done, the help of good counsel is that which setteth business straight.—Bacon.

NEW POLICY WORTH WHILE

As a result of a hearing before the grand jury of San Bernardino county, George A. Van Smith, of San Francisco, president of the State Board of Prison Directors, has announced as a policy of the prison board that hereafter prisoners in the penitentiaries at San Quentin and Folsom will not be paroled until the prosecuting attorney, trial judge and other officers who handled the prosecution of the prisoner have been served with a thirty-day notice of the intention of the board.

Mr. Van Smith was called to San Bernardino on a personal subpoena. The grand jury wanted to know why the prison board had paroled Fred E. Alford, who was convicted of embezzling $80,000 while he was city manager of Ontario and who was paroled after he had served eighteen months. The prison board scoffed at the idea that a grand jury away down in San Bernardino could make its members appear before it. Mr. Van Smith issued a curt statement in which he declared the acts of the prison board could not be reviewed by a county grand jury. The grand jury, however, was not to be put off the track. A personal subpoena was issued. In the meantime a growing widespread criticism of the prison board not only because of its action in the Alford case but because of its action in freeing a man sent to San Quentin from Orange county seems to have reached the ears of administration leaders at Sacramento.

While we can't prove it, we are convinced that word from Sacramento to the prison board suggesting that it get down off its high horse and meet the grand jury on its own ground would be an act of political wisdom. Anyhow, Mr. Van Smith showed up at San Bernardino, and his mood was conciliatory. The upshot of the hearing was that the president of the prison board agreed that it would hereafter be the policy of the board to give those who prosecuted and tried a man ample opportunity to be heard before the prison board turns the man out of prison on parole.

And that is a very good policy. There should be no deviation from it, for political favor or personal pull, no matter how thoroughly convinced the prison board may be that the trial jury and the trial judge were mistaken in their conclusions.

Unless the prison board does keep its decisions within the bounds of reason and common sense, it need not be surprised if the legislature attempts to pass a law that will make it impossible for a man to be given parole without the consent of the trial judge.

GERMAN POLITICS

It is questioned whether the German national election that elected nobody was a victory for the conservatives or the liberals.

A conservative won the highest vote, in the person of Dr. Jarrig; but he represented the combined strength of two parties, the Nationalist and the Conservative Bourgeois. The largest single party vote was the Socialist vote cast for Otto Braun, and the three liberal parties together are credited with 20 per cent more than the combined vote of the four conservative parties.

There is no telling which party or candidate will win in the second election, in which a mere plurality will suffice. If the Socialists win, however, there will be no such alarm as a Socialist victory would bring in this country. Germany has had a Socialist government for several years, without doing anything very revolutionary. German Socialism is apparently only a moderate pink, having nothing in common with Bolshevism.

One of the most satisfactory results of this election, to most Americans as well as most Germans, was the emphatic repudiation of Gen. Ludendorff, reputed "brains" of the late German war, a militarist parading as a Fascist. He polled only a couple of hundred thousand votes.

FIGHTING FROST BY FOG

Ah! A Swedish engineer has found it!

He has found that fog, properly created and distributed, will prevent frost damage to fruit, vegetables and flowers.

He is the man we have been looking for. If we can just get fog to do the work, the problem of smut on milady's snowwhite curtains by reason of smudging on a frosty morning will have been solved.

Recently a conference was called at Ontario by residents of Pomona who were firmly of the opinion that the time had come to prohibit the burning of crude oil as a means of preventing frost damage to oranges and lemons. These residents declared that the smudge was a public nuisance, and should be done away with. The conference brought together representatives from all the citrus growing sections of Southern California. They talked it all over, and came to a conclusion that was almost unanimous. That conclusion was that citrus crops must be saved; that, smudging excepted, there was no practical, effective way of preventing frost damage; that smudging, instead of being discouraged, should be encouraged in all citrus communities.

Those who have been giving the frost-fight question close study will read with interest, though not likely with profit, the following International News dispatch:

STOCKHOLM, April 2.—Wartime experiments in the use of artificial fog for the concealment of naval operations are now being continued in Sweden as an aid to farmers and truck gardeners in combating destructive early spring frosts. Ever since 1918 such tests have been conducted privately by a Swedish engineer, Vidar Jernberg, with a method of fog making invented by him, he has so far succeeded in neutralizing the effects on tender plants of temperature as low as four centigrade degrees below zero, or the freezing point.

Now the Academy of Agriculture has approved a request for a government appropriation for more extensive experiments with Jernberg's artificial fog at the agricultural experimental station, a state institution near the capital, where various schemes that might benefit agriculture are tried out.

Several years ago attempts were made at this station to save the truck garden crops from late frosts by setting out charcoal braziers and by smoke-making apparatus, but the results were not satisfactory. Since early times Swedish farmers have tried to save their crops, threatened through sudden frost, by lighting bonfires close to their fields, but as a rule the smoke will not settle down close to the ground, or else is easily carried off by a slight change in the wind.

Being heavier and more easily directed, artificial fog seems more practical and the coming tests are intended to determine the relative cost of making such fog, to what extent it is effective and under what meteorological conditions it is worth while to employ it.

Let us, for the sake of this editorial, admit the authenticity of the dispatch. The problem in Sweden does not seem to fit our call. If we have a breeze strong enough to prevent the effectiveness of smudging, there is no need of smudging, for, with us, a breeze almost surely means freedom from frost damage.

But we will welcome the Swedish experiments. We will hope that the engineer develops a fog-making method that will do the job. If he does we will send for him and pay him a big salary to teach us the secret.

Then, as an expert on turning water into fog, we will have him find out how to turn fog into water, which would solve our water problem, and put Hatfield out of business.

Pendulum Swinging Back
Bakersfield Californian.

A long-suffering public will be delighted to observe that the educational pendulum is about to swing back, if we may judge by a bill introduced by Senator Harris of Fresno, and which has already passed the upper house at Sacramento. The bill provides that at least one-half of the time of the pupils attending the public schools shall be devoted to the subjects of reading, writing, arithmetic, language and spelling, and the average parent who hears for the first time of that common sense and badly needed proviso is very apt to feel like giving three rousing cheers.

According to the curriculum adopted by the state, some 27 subjects are made mandatory in the grammar grades, and it need hardly be said that attention could not be scattered over so many subjects without neglecting the essential ones. If 50 per cent of the time of the students were devoted to the latter, those subjects would not be neglected, at least not to the extent they have been within the past few years.

Probably no class of people will welcome such a change as is proposed more than the teaching force of the state. Most teachers know, and frankly declare, that the courses of study now enforced do not do those best adapted to the intelligent instruction of the child, but they have been helpless, with the faddist having the ear of the legislature year after year. Because of that, first one subject and another has been added, until the overcrowded curriculum has made the teaching of the essentials almost a lost art.

But let us hope that sanity is going to prevail again, that the Harris bill will become a law and that once more our schools will begin to function in such a manner that those committed to their charge will learn how to read intelligently, write legibly and speak the English language correctly.

Where Is Southwest?

Long Beach Press-Telegram.
Kansas City refers to itself as the Southwest. No doubt it is correct. So is Long Beach the Southwest, and San Diego and Phoenix, Las Vegas and Albuquerque, El Paso and others that might be named in a galaxy of stalwart American communities.

Kansas City asked for consideration for the Southwest in the appointment of a new member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. "The great region of which Kansas City is the central transportation and market center," says the Times of that city, "is farthest removed from water facilities, and for that or other reasons is paying excessive rates and is suffering other injustices that a representative on the Interstate Commerce Commission, familiar with these problems, could keep before the members."

The American Southwest is a great and rich section of the United States. It is entitled to more consideration at the hands of the Federal government than it receives. The Kansas City Times is correct and just in asking that the Southwest be adequately represented in national affairs. The representation should extend not only to such bodies as the Interstate Commerce Commission but to Congress itself, and this can be brought about only by reapportionment, a process which Congress prefers to ignore.

As integral parts of the great Southwest, there is a closer relationship between Southern California and the district of which Kansas City is the immediate gateway of the East, than may be appreciated in either of these great centers. The Southwest should stand together for adequate representation at Washington, and for other recognition so essential to the welfare of these States, and not less essential to the welfare of the Nation as a whole.

EDITORIAL SHORTS

The Colorado river pact, and endorsement of an agreement of six states, since Arizona did not join in the seven-state pact, has been passed by the State senate, although the Times announced yesterday morning that it would be killed. The vote was 29 to 11. Congressman Phil Swing, author of the Swing-Johnson bill in Congress, was at Sacramento and explained the new angle to the case. Undoubtedly he was a potent factor in the result. The people thus speak again, to the effect that they will have the Colorado river developed, and by its friends.—Redlands Facts.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

Fainting

Poor ventilation, attacks of nervous terror from trying or almost dangerous situations, in which the one affected becomes hysterical, or accidents to one's person, where there is a loss of blood, frequently cause fainting. Another cause results from certain kinds of illness, where great stress of mind seems to be involved. Terror which may seize one in serious situations such as fire, riots or wrecks, are even more dangerous to life and limb as the stricken one becomes helpless and often is unable to recover in time to avoid serious accident and even death.

I well remember an accident that occurred in Chicago some years ago, which gives another angle to the fainting cause. This was a run-away in which a woman was concerned. She seemed to have complete control of the situation and managed to hold and guide the frightened animal until he had become calm, then she suddenly lost consciousness and fell into the street. She received serious injuries.

Here was a case of sudden collapse, due to the realization that disaster had been averted. All the bodily forces had been engaged in aiding the brain to guide and direct, causing increased cerebral activity. The sudden withdrawal of these forces brought a blood loss to the brain and fainting result.

Fainting is also associated with internal hemorrhage or bowel bleeding. This kind of fainting is always sudden and frequently results in a person's falling from sitting posture to the floor. Another point is the ceasing of respiration in genuine fainting fits. Artificial respiration will aid this condition promptly. In ordinary cases the resting of the patient in a supine position with the application of such restoratives as gentle massage and the cold head and facial baths will suffice.

Education and Progress

Long Beach Press-Telegram

Encouraging news comes from Mexico and from Central American countries with reference both to political conditions and to the status of the people. The revolution is losing its popularity in these Latin lands. Stability in Government has either resulted from or accompanied the more widespread education of the masses. Interest in manual arts, in language, and in the rudiments of learning, is generally expressed throughout the nations which lie between the United States and Panama. The incumbent President of Mexico was in his early days a school teacher. He founded a great institution in his native city where hundreds of boys and girls are trained in industries and in the basic academic subjects. President Calles is devoting his energies chiefly to the furthering of his educational ideas, not among the favored classes which already are provided for, but among all his people, regardless of color or antecedents.

Better living conditions naturally follow such endeavors. Ambitions for progress individually, and willingness to co-operate for the common welfare, are products of these policies.

Similar reports come from the Central American republics, where the upward trend of the social plane is noticeable.

To what extent the United States has influenced this thirst for knowledge and skill does not matter. The United States will profit from the improved standards whatever their inspiration. Scores of thousands of Mexican children are being educated in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Lesser number are attending the public schools of other states to which Mexican families have migrated.

Education of the right type tends to peace and progress. It seems that leaders in the Latin American countries have earnestly hit upon this type of education and are making the most of it.

THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY

Heaven is full of stars tonight; the earth
Lies hushed, as she shall lie some day, perhaps,
When life and death no longer trouble her—
No voice, no cry in the whole countryside.
The empty road rambles through field and thicket,
And in the road are prints of hoof and foot;
Along the surface of this lonely planet,
Now naked to the hunger of the stars,
Man and beast, on the old pilgrimage.
They passed together here—not long ago.
What was it they were looking for? I wonder,
Or if, themselves, they knew? Where were they going? —
Footsteps—always footsteps going somewhere—
What country is it that they all are seeking,
Who up and down the world by night or day
Move with such patience, always to one end?

Not the least sound. Not the least leaf disturbs
The immemorial majesty of heaven.
Footprints—only footprints going somewhere.
Wherever they were going, they are gone.

TRULY WONDERFUL—A truly wonderful incident occurred in connection with a trial completed in Moscow this week.

The soviet government, having granted certain valuable oil concessions to the Sinclair oil company, brought suit to annul them. The case was tried in the soviet court and the soviet government won.

The wonderful incident was that the court ordered the return to the oil company of 200,000 rubles which it had deposited as security for the carrying out of the terms of the concessions.

WHY WOOD STAYED—When Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Schools, read about his fine record for efficiency, etc., etc., he said, in effect: "If I am that good I am too useful in California to think of leaving the state. I will stay here."

Hence it is that "we have with us tonight," and probably for many nights the Honorable Will C. Wood.

SHE DESERVES IT—The $5000 cash prize offered by the Pictorial Review to the American woman who, in 1923, should "make the most distinctive achievement, through individual effort, in the field of art, industry, literature, music, drama, education, science, or sociology," has been awarded to Mrs. Edward MacDowell.

Mrs. MacDowell's superiority to all competitors was felt to lie in the fact that she has founded and managed, at Peterborough, New Hampshire, a colony where creative artists—musicians, artists and writers—can live at a nominal cost of ten dollars a week.

There should be no objection to the award, for the person who can, nowadays, arrange matters so that workers along any line of usefulness, are able to live on $10 a week has certainly earned any and all prizes offered.

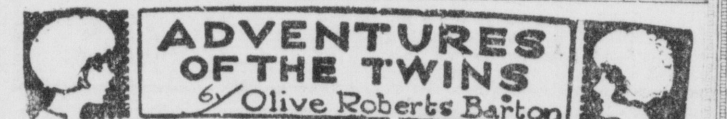

"TIS TRUE, TIS PITY"—According to an acknowledged authority, the most successful novel written during the past twenty-five years was "Main Street," by Sinclair Lewis. But as it is, there is more to come. Of American authors, the one taking second place, in point of popularity, was Harold Bell Wright.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 1—THE MAGIC SNUFF IS LOST

There was a low buzzing sound from somewhere in the distance that sounded like lazy bees or hungry mosquitoes or angry flies.

It grew louder and louder, the buzzing sound did, and at last the Twins looked up at the sky to see what was the matter.

Imagine their surprise when they saw a tiny aeroplane coming toward them at full speed. And at the same time a voice called, "Look out!" and two pairs of odd-looking shoes dropped to the ground beside them, and a second later a letter came fluttering down.

Nick stooped and picked up the letter. It was addressed to "The Twins." The Big White House on the Hill!

"Here, Nancy, you read it," cried Nick handing it to his sister.

So Nancy tore open the envelope and read the letter out loud.

It said: "Dear Twins: Mister Whizz is about to start on a trip in his magic aeroplane."

"He is going to all sorts of places in my Nine Hundred and Ninety Nine Kingdoms, and I thought that perhaps you would like to go with him. He will take the magic shoes with him. If you wish to go on an adventure, take off your own shoes and put these on. Then you can go any place that a fairy can go and, of course, change to any size you wish."

"I hope you are both well and that if you decide to go with Mister Whizz, you will both have a very nice time."
